British Foreign Policy Stands: Japan Warned

Japan Says Britons Must Alter Plans

SHANGHAI, July 17. — A fresh warning to the British to alter their "pro-Chiang Kai-Shek policy" was issued in Tientsin today by Lieut.-General Masaharu Honma, Japanese army commander in the North China port. He said negotiations in Tokyo between Japan and Great Britain would end in prompt rupture unless British agreed to change their policy in China.

MAN ARRESTED IN SOUTH CITY FOR SHOOTING

W. Senyk, 24, Badly Wounded During Party In East Calgary

CALGARY, July 17.—Condition of William Senyk, 24, of Vancouver, seriously wounded by a revolver shot, allegedly fired by William Carter, alias Daniel McKay, 28, of Vancouver, during a party in east Calgary late yesterday, was "quite serious although somewhat improved," said Holy Cross hospital attendants today.

Carter, arrested by Calgary's chief of police, Col. David Ritchie, during a raid on a downtown Calgary club last night, was charged with "shooting with intent to kill." He fled from the east Calgary house following the shooting.

Meanwhile police continued to check on four $10 bills and three $5's, which, they said, tallied with numbers circulated from the Robson street branch of the Dominion bank in Vancouver, of notes missing after two masked gunmen escaped with more than $2,000 last Tuesday.

The bills were in a bundle of $637 found on Carter, police said. One of two loaded revolvers found on the captured man also tallied with the description of a revolver stolen from the Vancouver bank, police added.

Police today stated Fred Roy, 36, Vancouver waiter, and Fred Proski, 23, of Swift Current, Sask., were being detained as material witnesses. They were at the party at which the shooting occurred, allegedly during a dispute over a woman companion.

Carter appeared in police court today and was remanded until July 25. No plea was entered.

Imperial Trade Expansion Is Fine Example

LONDON, July 17.—Colonial Secretary Malcolm MacDonald said in a speech today that a remarkable expansion in Imperial trade during these years of "non-stop crises" was an example of "what might be achieved if we could restore over a much wider field normal, friendly relations between the nations of the world."

He spoke at a luncheon in historic Grocers' Hall to delegates to the congress of chambers of commerce of the British Empire. J. Stanley McLean of Toronto, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, was one of the principal delegates from overseas.

LONDON, July 17—The British government will not change its far eastern policy to accommodate Japan, Prime Minister Chamberlain announced in the House of Commons today.

In a long statement covering many aspects of the far eastern situation, including Tientsin, the Prime Minister made it clear the British government would not change its policy "at the demand of another power".

At the same time Mr. Chamberlain reiterated that the negotiations in Tokyo over blockaded Tientsin must continue on a local basis.

The British government, he said is not willing to include the bigger field of Japan's financial and economic policies in the conquered areas of China.

Press reports from Tokyo had intimated the Japanese government would require a fundamental reversal of Britain's far east policy as a condition for opening the Tientsin negotiations, Mr. Chamberlain declared.

So far there had been no official demand from Japanese government sources, he continued, adding:

"I should like to make it clear that this country would not and could not so act in regrd to its foreign policy at the demand of another power.

"In the opinion of His Majesty's ambassador at Tokyo the Japanese official attitude would be more correctly described as a desire that Great Britain should endeavor to regard the Sino-Japanese hostilities

DROUGHT AREA AID IS GIVEN BY NEW BOARD

Rehabilitation of Residents In Dry Districts Main Objective

Rehabilitation of residents of drought areas is the main purpose behind establishment of the new provincial Special Areas Board, formation of which was announced Monday by Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines. Appointment of the board of three was authorized by Order-in-Council approved by the cabinet Saturday. The order is effective as from Monday.

Members of the board are A. C. McCully, chairman; D. M. Graham, secretary and G. R. Armstrong. Mr. McCully was administrator for the municipal affairs department when it administered the special areas and he has been a member of the previous special areas board.

Mr. Graham has been acting as secretary of a municipality with headquarters at Oyen. Mr. Armstrong has been carrying on as a member of the previous board.

RELINQUISHES WORK

Up until now the special areas have been administered by a board under the chairmanship of John Harvie, deputy minister of lands and mines, but as his time is so heavily occupied, said Mr. Tanner, that he had to relinquish the work.

"We are very anxious that the special areas board do everything

GRITS CHOOSE J. A. DUBUC IN NORTH RIDING

Will Contest Provincial Seat; Earle Bullis Loses Nomination

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

BONNYVILLE, July 17—Joseph A. Dubuc was nominated as Liberal candidate for the St. Paul provincial constituency at a nominating convention attended by 56 delegates here Saturday. Earle Bullis, of Elk Point, lost the nomination in a close contest.

Following the vote, Mr. Bullis moved to make the nomination unanimous and this motion was carried.

E. L. Gray, M.L.A., Alberta Liberal leader, and J. H. Tremblay, M.L.A., for Grouard, addressed the meeting and were given an enthusiastic reception.

Mr. Dubuc is an old-timer in northern Alberta, having operated a mercantile business at Bonnyville since 1931. Following his nomination, a banquet was tendered Mr. Gray at the Central hotel.

Rumored strongly before the convention as the likely candidate, Mr. Bullis destroyed his chances in his nomination speech when he said he would accept the nomination only if he were allowed to run as an independent candidate, with backing from other political groups opposed to Social Credit.

IS CHEERED

Mr. Dubuc, the winning candidate, was cheered by the convention when he in turn said he would only run as a Liberal, pledged to

BEAR MEETS WATERLOO IN NORTH CAMP

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

FORT SMITH, N.W.T., July 17.—A big bear which had been raiding the stock corrals at Ryan Bros. Halfway Camp, met his Waterloo last week at the hands of Pat Ryan.

The bear had been raiding the pig pen for a week, making regular appearances each night. Deciding that the losses had gone far enough Pat Ryan rigged a trap, hanging a cow's head in a tree for bait. The bear came along at 10:30 that night, headed for the pig pens, but stepped aside to investigate the cow's head. As he reached for the bait the trap was sprung and hearing the commotion in the bush Pat Ryan arrived with his rifle and put the finishing touches on bruin. The bear was one of the largest ever seen here.

Bears are plentiful in the north this year and many complaints of stock losses have been received.

Three Rescued In Gull Lake Mishap

Three Stettler people owe their lives to the heroism and prowess of John E. Fraser, 60, and Nellie Barker, 22, both of Wetaskiwin, who rescued them from drowning in Gull Lake, Sunday, when a squall had overturned their boat. Two of those rescued are believed to be Dr. F. O. Galbraith and D. M. Gardiner. Mr. Fraser and Miss Barker went out in a small rowboat and took the three people off the overturned craft to which they were clinging.

Secret Contacts Made Between Polish And German Circles For Settlement Danzig Battle

By ROBERT REIFFEL
Copyright, 1939, by The Havas News Agency

WARSAW, July 17.—Secret contacts between certain Polish and German political circles to see if a peaceful settlement of the Danzig and Polish corridor disputes can be reached were reported here today.

It was said that such contacts do not mean that Poland is abandoning its fixed policy in relation to Danzig and other issues.

On the contrary, they are in line with its desire to leave no stone unturned in order to prevent any unjustified additional strain on Polish-German relations. It was emphasized that Poland under no circumstances would countenance annexation of Danzig by the Reich.

It also was emphasized that the present comparative calm in Polish-German relations immediately followed Prime Minister Chamberlain's warning to Chancellor Hitler. This warning that Great Britain was ready to stand by the pledges given Poland was coupled with a clearly-expressed desire that the Polish-German dispute be settled in a peaceful manner.

BULLET WOUNDS PROVE FATAL TO BRITISH SOLDIER

TIENTSIN, July 17—British military authorities reported Sunday that J. W. Tomlinson, private of the Durham Light Infantry, died Saturday from unexplained gunshot wounds received Friday.

Tomlinson, shot in the abdomen, was found Friday night by a French trooper about a mile from the Shanhaikwan barracks, where a Durham infantry detachment is established in summer quarters.

TOKYO, July 17.—The navy department announced Emperor Hirohito will review the combined Japanese fleet off Yokosuka next Friday, as Anglo-Japanese negotiators prepared to resume discussion of the Tientsin blockade after striking a serious snag Saturday.

The emperor will board the battleship Nagato, remaining eight hours for the demonstration in the Pacific off the southern Japanese coast.

Armed Only With Stick

BELLA COOLA, B.C., July 17.—A 700-pound beef-eating grizzly, which has raided herds in this district 260 miles north of Vancouver for years, is dead, but residents are more concerned with the courage of a rancher's wife who chased the animal, armed with only a stick.

Mr. Edward Wheeler saw the bear chasing a herd of her husband's cows near the house. She grabbed a stick and shouting and waving it, drove the grizzly off, then called Hjelmer Gordon, a neighbor.

Gordon and Martin Nygaard stalked the animal to a swamp where it had trapped a young steer. Nygaard brought the grizzly down after Gordon had emptied his rifle into the bear's body without apparent effect.

DOMINION PAYS TAX FOR DOZEN CITY RESIDENTS

City Assessor Thomas Walker has received his first cheque from the federal government under its housing assistance plan, provided for in part three of the National Housing Act.

The cheque, for $857.91, pays the taxes on 12 homes in the city, all built between June 1 and December 31, 1938. The amount covers the full 1939 tax on the houses, but not on land or local improvements.

Mr. Walker has submitted 23 applications out of 40 he has received, but F. W. Nicolls, housing director, has asked for further information on some of these. Mr. Walker also is completing information on a number before submitting them to Ottawa.

Under this plan, the Dominion pays all the taxes the first year, half the second year and quarter the third year on houses built between June 1, 1938, and December 31, 1940, costing not more than $4,000. The city does not charge taxes for the year of construction.

Backs Into Jail

MIAMI, Fla., July 17.—A 91-year-old motorist, who insisted he was quite capable of driving an automobile safely, moved his car promptly when a traffic light blinked "Go." An observing policeman arrested him, anyway. The car was moving backward.

Children Overrun Big Fair

Lads and lassies by the thousand streamed through clicking turnstiles as gates to Edmonton's sixty-first annual exhibition swung open at noon Monday to admit the cheering throng. And, best of all, the children were given free admittance to the grounds, with a charge of only 10 cents each for the grandstand show in the evening.

Popcorn was sold by the bushel, and ice cream was consumed by the gallon as young Edmonton, hungry as ever, put away a variety of food during the afternoon.

Many of the children were accompanied by fond parents, who did their best to prevent their offspring from ruining their digestions, but Daddy and Mum were fighting a losing battle.

"I want popcorn!" yelled some.

"Mummy, can I have a hamburger?" asked one young gentleman at a hot-dog-hamburger stand during the afternoon.

"No, son," replied the fond parent. "You've had a lot of that fuzzy stuff and ice cream and popcorn and——"

"But Johnny's mother lets him eat all he wants——"

"That's all right for Johnny's mother, but——"

And so it went all during the afternoon. There'll be thousands of tummy-aches tonight. But what of it? A spoonful of castor oil and everything's o.k.

The fair only comes once a year, and the kids were out to put their own day over with a bang—and they certainly did it.

ARAB'S FIERY ROBE STARTS FOREST FIRE

ORAN, Algeria, July 17.—An Arab woodcutter extinguished the flames in his flowing robe by rolling down a grassy slope. But he started a huge forest fire which swept over 20 miles to the outskirts of Oran where the garrison called out help Sunday to combat the blaze.

Young Indian Girl Rescued From River

CALGARY, July 17—A pulmotor of Calgary's fire department aided in saving the life of Edna Gladua, 14-year-old Indian girl from Hobbema Indian reserve, near Edmonton, after she was pulled from the Elbow river here Saturday by Harry Mackie of Calgary.

The girl, unable to swim, went wading with two other girls and stepped into deep water. Mackie plunged into the water to drag the girl out after she had risen to the surface twice.

The girl was removed to Holy Cross hospital where attendants said she was "doing fairly well."

Attempts To Raise Submarine Resumed

LIVERPOOL, July 17.—Attempts to raise the sunken British submarine Thetis were resumed today when two new "messenger" wires were placed under the forward end of the keel.

The salvage company planned later to place lifting wires under the submersible which sank off Liverpool with a loss of 99 lives during a practice dive June 1. Cables snapped in a previous attempt June 8 to raise the Thetis.

Would Encourage Loan Companies To Assist With Housing Plan

CALGARY, July 17.—A resolution seeking clarification of the existing debt situation in Alberta with a view to encouraging loan companies to assist with a housing program was forwarded today to Premier William Aberhart of Alberta by Calgary civic authorities and businessmen.

The resolution, approved by a special housing committee including representatives from the city council, trades and labor council, Calgary General Contractors' Association and the Board of Trade, stated that some $38,000,000 have been made available to every province except Alberta under the National Housing Act.

Though there is a shortage of houses in Alberta, no one has been able to take advantage of the Dominion assistance plan which depends on loaning companies for its operations, the committee claimed.

COMPANIES CIRCULARIZED

Several months ago a civic committee circularized loan companies and some of the companies replied that Alberta's debt legislation made it impossible for them to risk their capital, civic authorities said.

Some companies replied that if the provincial government would give assurance that housing loans would be left outside the scope of debt legislation they would feel more at liberty to make loans.

Miners Strike In Protest Against National Register

MELBOURNE, Australia, July 17.—Coinciding with the opening of the Commonwealth national register of wealth and man power, miners called a one-day strike today throughout Australia. The closing date for the register, which is to be compiled for reasons of national defence, is July 29.

The Australian council of trade unions is boycotting the register pending a conference with Prime Minister R. G. Menzies at which it will urge that a special session of parliament be called to give legislative sanction to the assurance of safeguards given July 1 in a letter sent by Defence Minister Geoffrey Street to the council.

ROME, July 17.—Italy's sudden expulsion of all foreigners from her northernmost province was at Germany's request, high diplomatic sources reported today.

Usually authoritative circles said the real reason was Fascism's determination to Italianize all Bolzano Province, which was taken from Austria after the World War, and Berlin has asked Rome to avoid the appearance of acting only against the German minority.

As a result a sweeping order was issued to rid the popular tourist zone of foreigners while the problem of the German minority was settled.

Although officials have said the expulsion was due to discovery of espionage activities by British and French elements, it was pointed out that the German minority question in South Tyrol has been a long-standing problem which Premier Benito Mussolini became particularly eager to solve after creation of the Rome-Berlin axis.

There are some 12,000 foreigners in the region, including about 10,000 Germans who now are returning to the Reich. There are about 200,000 German-speaking Italians. Many of these may be forced to migrate to other parts of Italy.

Drought Area

in its power to assist in the rehabilitation of people in the dried-out areas," said Mr. Tanner.

"Headquarters of the board will be moved into the area, so that it can give every possible assistance in the work of rehabilitation and facilitate in every way the people in the areas maintaining themselves."

By having the board in the area, said Mr. Tanner, it can gain access to all records and have a first-hand picture of the whole situation within the areas.

FOUR AREAS

There are four special areas in the province, namely, the Tilley East, the Berry Creek, Sullivan Lake, Bow West and Sounding Creek-Neutral Hills.

Under the act passed last session, administration of it is given into the hands of the minister of lands and mines and he was authorized to appoint a board.

The act states that where title to any land is taken by the minister if the same was in the occupation of a person who was the registered owner, the person who was the registered owner or the purchaser either under an agreement of sale or as his personal representative, is given the right to become the lessee of such land.

Under this act the mill rate for educational purposes shall be fixed by the lieutenant-governor-in-council from time to time and a further provision is made that in case the amount of the taxes levied and collected in any year in any special district or in any school district is insufficient to defray the expenditures of the special district or school district, the deficiency is to be made good out of such sums as may be appropriated for the purpose by the legislature.

All sums due to a municipal hospital district in respect of any land in a special area is to be paid by the provincial treasurer from legislative votes.

Annual Fair

monton's big annual show—the sixty-first exhibition—was whipped into shape at the renovated fair grounds and, despite the week-end's heavy rain, show-people Monday rushed last-minute preparations for what promises to be the best carnival week in the 61 years of the exhibition's history.

Weather prospects were considerably improved Monday morning and Percy W. Abbott, K.C., managing director of the exhibition, reported that he was expecting a large attendance for the opening day—Children's Day.

Unloading of the Royal American Shows—the continent's leading carnival organization—kept the fair grounds a hive of industry Sunday as several thousand visitors gathered to take a preview shot of the midway attractions.

STOCK, RACE HORSES

Livestock and race horses valued at approximately $500,000 arrived in the city Saturday and Sunday by train and truck and were taken to their quarters. More than 300 race horses arrived from Calgary and were stabled in the new barns north of the half-mile track at the grounds and grooms and handlers prepared for another strenuous week of racing.

While this work was proceeding, thousands of exhibits were put in place. These included agriculture and horticulture, arts and crafts, needle craft and handcrafts. The Manufacturers' building was swarming with officials and workmen over the week-end—all busy placing exhibits in preparation for the opening day.

Rain at the grounds Sunday and Monday did not hamper roustabouts in getting the midway and concessions set up. There was a slight muddiness at the grounds but they were not at all oozy. A heavy layer of shavings spread around Monday made walking quite clean.

Thousands of Edmonton citizens thronged the grounds during the evening unable to wait for the opening of the fair at noon Monday. Excitedly they watched the show workers erect the thrilling rides and mysterious-looking side-shows. Rides that had proved popular last year were received with glad shouts as they took form, while new rides and side-shows were surrounded by many trying to "dope out" what they would be like.

ROARING BUSINESS

Concession booths did a roaring business Sunday evening and extra-long "dogs" in the hot-dogs vanished in an amazing manner.

Trucks, large and small, edged their way through the crowds Sunday evening bearing goods for the various exhibit buildings, while most of Alberta's prize livestock was unloaded at the grounds during the day. Early Monday morning a parade of the latest in farm machinery wended its way through city streets towards the grounds, ready for exhibition.

Monday is Children's Day at the fair, and the younger fry kept a close watch on the weather-man Monday morning as a light drizzle fell at times. Then as the sun broke through a heavy blanket of clouds they began to smile from ear to ear. There will be lots of "upset tummies" in the city Monday evening from an overdose of hot-dogs, ice cream cones and soft drinks. Is it worth it? Oh boy, and how!

EXHIBITION NOTES

Trans-Canada airmail and passenger planes will roar over the exhibition grounds coming in at 11:40 a.m.—20 minutes before the 1939 Royal Visit Year show opens officially for kiddies' day—and will pass over the grounds in loud salute again going south at 7:15 p.m., officials of the TCA announced this morning.

James Donavon, official starter for the exhibition racing meet opening Monday afternoon here, paid a visit to the grounds this morning, and after inspecting the four new barns built this summer, declared them to be absolutely "the finest on the North American continent."

Alistair Fraser, vice-president of the Canadian National Railways in charge of freight traffic, arrived in the city Sunday from the west, and while in the city will be the guest of the Edmonton Exhibition Association.

Jack Hettle, chairman of the racing committee, Saskatoon exhibition, with Eric Knowles, managing editor of the Saskatoon Star-Phoenix and a director of the Saskatoon fair, arrived in the city over the week-end, and will be the guests of P. W. Abbott, K.C., and the directors of the Edmonton exhibition for the first part of the week.

Others from Saskatoon who are expected to arrive Monday morning include: Mayor Carl Niderost, A. D. Munro, president of the Saskatoon exhibition; Dr. L. E. Kirk, dean of agriculture, University of Saskatchewan; W. J. Munro, general superintendent of Canadian National Railways, and Sid W. Johns, president of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions and manager of the Saskatoon exhibition, who will officially open the Royal Visit Year Exhibition here Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

Advance sale of tickets for the Edmonton Exhibition showed a substantial increase for the city, officials reported Monday morning. Country points have not reported as yet, but indications were that the total sale for the northern part of the province would also show an increase over last year.

CONFEDERATION COMMEMORATED BY 7 TABLETS

By DONALD COVEY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

CHARLOTTETOWN, July 17.—In simple ceremony, seven tablets commemorating the Prince Edward Island Fathers of Confederation were unveiled here today as distinguished speakers of Canada's five eastern provinces paid tribute to the men who "builded better than they knew."

Premier Thane A. Campbell of the island province which is engaged in a week-long celebration of the 75th anniversary of the historic meeting in Charlottetown, acted as master of ceremonies while an address of welcome was delivered by Lieutenant-Governor George D. DeBlois.

Tribute to the confederation fathers was paid by Premier Angus L. Macdonald, of Nova Scotia; Premier A. A. Dysart of New Brunswick; Hon. Onesime Gagnon, Quebec minister of mines and fisheries; Hon. Colin Campbell, Ontario minister of mines and resources; and D. C. Harvey of Halifax, representing the historic sites and monument board.

SEA SERPENT REPORTED SEEN BY FISHERMEN

On several occasions lately an enormous marine monster has been reported seen by fishermen from the entrance of Skidegate Narrows. It is described as looking like a huge eel with long antennae on each side of its head, which resembles that of a sea lion.

The serpent is said to have been seen rearing its head and body above water about 10 feet. When breathing on the surface it is said to make a noise like an airplane. The creature, dark brown in color, tosses seals into the air before eating them, it is said.

Not Possible To Define Gasoline Cost Separately

CALGARY, July 17—Herbert H. Bronsden, secretary of the British American Oil Company, Limited, today told the McGillivray Royal commission "it is not possible to define cost of gasoline separately from the cost of processing all other products" from Turner Valley crude. Mr. Bronsden's evidence was similar to that of other earlier witnesses.

A refinery in Alberta might consider gasoline as its main product and would be justified in charging all refining and marketing costs up to the gasoline, said Mr. Bronsden.

The commission, charged with determining cost of motor fuels refined in Alberta or imported into Alberta, was told the following products were extracted from a barrel of Turner Valley crude:

Gasoline 69.42 per cent; kerosene, 2.52; distillate, 5.48; light fuel oils .6; bunker fuel oil, 14.32; gas, 5.73 and loss 1.93 per cent.

Mrs. Mary Greig, Long Resident, Passes Monday

Resident of the city for many years, Mrs. Matilda Greig of 11518 95A street, widow of the late James Stuart Greig, died in Edmonton early Monday morning at the age of 82 years. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Annie Greig of Prince Albert, Sask; four step-sons; one brother, E. Dennington of Edmonton.

Funeral services will be held from Foster and McGarvey's chapel at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Remains will be forwarded to Didsbury for committal Wednesday in the Didsbury cemetery at 12:30 p.m. Rev. Hallam will officiate.

Foreign Policy

with more understanding of Japan's difficulties and the Japanese side of the case.

"His Majesty's government share their ambassador's view that to attribute to the Japanese government an intention which may be found to have no basis in fact would be only calculated to prejudice success of the negotiations."

MUST HAVE CARE

It is understood here that although the prime minister made no reference to it, Sir Robert Craigie, the ambassador in Tokyo, has been instructed to tell the Japanese that Britain could not discuss such matters as currently without prior consultation with the United States, France and other countries concerned.

Arthur Henderson, Labor, asked: "Does the prime minister mean that the forthcoming negotiations in Tokyo will be confined to the local issues at Tientsin and that His Majesty's government will not agree to discussion of any modifications of the principles of the nine-power treaty behind the backs of the United States and other governments."

The prime minister: "Yes, it does mean that, but, as I have already said, we have received no such demand from the Japanese government."

Mr. Chamberlain declared that "the local situation at Tientsin," where the British and French concessions have been blockaded since June 14, "has on the whole improved and food supplies are now entering in sufficient quantities and adequate supplies of milk are now available."

Anthony Eden, Conservative, asked whether the Japanese government had not asked for the Tokyo conversations to be extended beyond local issues at Tientsin. The prime minister in reply said:

NOT QUITE UNDERSTOOD

"I did not quite say that. Observations between the British ambassador and the Japanese foreign minister ranged over the general background against which the Japanese government considered that the Tientsin question should be considered but they have not suggested that discussion or settlement of this general question should be a condition of the negotiations."

Philip Noel Baker, Labor, asked: "Will the prime minister inform the Japanese government that the invasion of China is an act of aggression condemned by the League of Nations with our consent and a crime against humanity and if it is ended all outstanding questions can quite well be settled with Japan?"

Jewish Refugees Given Temporary Refuge At Beirut

PARIS, July 17.—Two small German steamships loaded with Jewish refugees have been given temporary refuge at Beirut, Lebanon, following the outbreak of pestilential disease among the passengers, French authorities announced today.

The disease developed after a wave of suicides was reported among the refugees.

The vessels Breslau and Osiris, carrying more than 1,000 passengers, were admitted to the Beirut harbor.

Another refugee-laden German ship, the Thessaly, was found to be free from disease and was obliged to put back to sea with her 800 passengers. A fourth ship, with 700 on board, was reported cruising in the same region seeking to land its refugees.

Body Recovered

CALGARY, July 17—The body of an unidentified woman was taken from the Bow river in downtown Calgary today. Police said the woman was about 45 to 50 years of age.

Final Rinfret Rites

MONTREAL, July 17. — Funeral services for Hon. Fernand Rinfret, who died suddenly in Los Angeles Wednesday, will be held in St. James cathedral here Thursday.

As of May 1, 1939, there were a total of 2,371 airports and landing fields in the United States. Of this number, 728 had night lighting equipment.

FIGHT PROMOTER SAVES LIFE OF FIVE-YEAR-OLD

LONDON, July 17.—Bud Davis, Vancouver fight promoter, saved a five-year-old boy from drowning in the Grand Union canal. The incident occurred Saturday but was disclosed only today by Bud's friends.

Davis was walking with Danny Paul, one of his proteges, hunting a flat when an old man rushed up and asked:

"Can either of you swim? A boy is drowning in the canal."

Bud jumped into the canal fully clothed and seized the drowning lad, but he could not scale the paved canal wall and swam around until pedestrians arrived to help Danny haul him out.

The boy, John Reynolds, was unconscious and blue in the face, but Bud revived him by artificial respiration. Both were taken to a hospital where the boy was detained until fully recovered.

The authorities wanted to detain Bud, claiming he was suffering from shock, but Davis said: "I am all right. Just give me a couple of drinks."

Grits Choose

Liberal principles and obeying the Liberal leader.

When the vote was taken, the stand of Mr. Dubuc was endorsed by a smashing majority and he was named a straight Liberal candidate.

Charge was made by E. L. Gray, Liberal leader, in addressing the convention that Premier Aberhart in a recent address at Vegreville was seeking to "steal Liberal thunder" when he said the government might seek to reduce cost of farm implement repairs and farm implements by government action.

Mr. Gray pointed out that weeks before Premier Aberhart's speech, the Liberal party, after its council meeting in Red Deer on June 17, issued a draft program of its principles on which it will contest the next election whereby the party outlined steps to effect reductions in farm implements and their repairs running to more than 30 per cent.

SCHOOL QUESTION

Liberal party, said J. H. Tremblay, M. L. A. for Grouard, is pledged to allow the question of retention of the larger school unit to be decided by majority vote in each district.

"We are a democratic party and we think this supremely important question should be settled by the democratic vote of Alberta citizens," he declared.

THIEVES STEAL STORE SUITS OF BLAST VICTIMS

PROVIDENCE, Ky., July 17—Thieves entered the employees' locker room at the Duvin Coal Company last night and stole "store suits" of nine explosion-trapped miners whose bodies were found early today. They passed up the working overalls of 70 men off duty.

Bomb Explodes

BIRMINGHAM, England, July 17—An incendiary bomb today partially destroyed the checkroom of the railway station at Wolverhampton, 12 miles north of here. No one was injured by the blast, which was attributed to Irish Republican Army terrorists.

Earth Shock

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17. — A slight earthquake was felt here about 1:25 a.m. (2:25 a.m. M.S.T.) today. No damage was reported.

Church Head

British Fascist Leader Outlines His Policy For Peace in Europe

LONDON, July 17.—Sir Oswald Mosley, leader of British fascists, Sunday advocated a four-point program which he said would "bring peace in our time and our children's time," if it were offered to Germany. About 25,000 heard his speech.

His four points:

1—British disinterest in eastern Europe.

2—Disarmament in western Europe. "Tell Hitler we have no interest in eastern Europe and the German nightmare of encirclement has gone. Then we can meet around the table."

3—Return of mandated territories. "We do not want them because we have got a quarter of the world already."

4—Mind Britain's business. "Concentrate on the British Empire and say to any nation in the world that if they set foot across the frontier as one man we will fight for Britain."

INFANT IS RUN OVER BY TRAIN; IS UNSCATHED

WINONA, Minn., July 17. — A 22-month-old child, Ann Louise Cady, was run over by a freight train Friday and escaped unscathed. Trainmen who picked her up said she apparently threw herself face down on the ground between the tracks.

Benjamin Muttart, Well Known Here, Passes Saturday

Resident of the city for the past 32 years and well known in Edmonton business circles before his retirement a few years ago, Benjamin Stewart Muttart, 66, of 10928 81 street, died in the city Saturday.

He is survived by his wife, three daughters, Mrs. Rena Stenhouse, Vancouver, B.C.; Mrs. Amy Day of San Francisco, California; Miss Edith Muttart, at home; three brothers, A. B. Muttart and S. H. Muttart, both of Edmonton, and Z. G. Muttart, of Prince Edward Island; one sister, Mrs. Freeman Clark of Edson.

Funeral services will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. from Andrews' funeral chapel with Rev. J. P. Berry officiating. Interment will take place in the family plot of the Edmonton cemetery.

Father and Son Seeking $11,165 In Court Action

Damages totaling $11,165 are being sought by William H. Fleming and Gerald Fleming, father and son, from John A. Harvey, Barrhead truck owner, and his driver, Fred P. Brant, in a supreme court action started Monday. The statement of claim was filed by L. Pekarsky, Edmonton barrister.

The action arose out of an accident on 127 street between 108 and 109 avenue on July 30, 1937, in which Gerald Fleming received serious injuries.

It is alleged that Mr. Brant was negligent in parking the truck he was driving too close to the middle of the pavement, thus creating a traffic hazard.

This is the second court action arising out of this accident. Recently Mr. Justice A. F. Ewing awarded Mrs. Bertha Smorlie $721 and Miss Ruth Smorlie $5,000 damages in respect to injuries received by Miss Smorlie. This judgment is being appealed.

Demented Father Slashes Children: Daughter May Die

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Two children were seriously slashed and stabbed early today while locked in a room with their inventor father who had nailed down all the windows in fear that "Nazi spies" would steal an airplane motor he was designing. The victims are Harold Massey, 10, and his sister, Dorleen May Massie, nine. Police said the girl might die.

Louis Will Meet Pastor Sept. 20

Dr. Cross Returns To City Following Trip Through South

Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health and in charge of relief returned to his office Monday after a visit to the south eastern section of the province.

Asked regarding the new relief agreement between the Dominion and provincial governments, a copy of which has been received at his office, Dr. Cross said that no action had been taken on it yet.

This pact provides for the Dominion and provincial governments each paying 40 per cent of the relief costs and the municipalities paying 20 per cent.

It will be a few days before action is taken and the text of the agreement made available, Dr. Cross said.

A. J. Whitcombe, 58, Veteran Traveler, Dies Here Suddenly

City traveler for the wholesale firm of Campbell, Wilson and Horne during the past 23 years and a resident of the city since 1903, Arthur Joseph Whitcombe, 58, of 11208 123 street died suddenly Saturday afternoon.

Surviving are his wife, two sisters, Nellie Whitcombe of Hatley, Quebec and Mrs. D. Wooton, Providence, R.I.; three brothers, Edward of Hatley, Quebec, Monty of Andover, Mass., Irving of Moncton, N. B.

Vital Link in Empire Air Route to be Welded In Quebec Town Aug. 5

By ROSS MUNRO

Canadian Press Staff Writer

BOUCHERVILLE, Que., July 17—A vital link in the Empire air route around the world will be welded in this French-Canadian village in three weeks when an Imperial Airways clipper plane lands on the broad St. Lawrence river on the first flight of a regular trans-Atlantic service.

The initial westbound trip, tentatively scheduled for Aug. 5, will bring a flying boat from Southampton, via Foynes, Eire, and Botwood, Nfld., to Boucherville, 20 miles down the St. Lawrence from Montreal.

FAST MAIL SERVICE

It will carry mail which may be transferred to a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane and flown to Vancouver, providing a scheduled 40-hour service from England to the Pacific ocean, which alone remains to be crossed regularly by British planes to complete the Empire airline circling the globe.

Scheduled weekly air mail flights likely will be made until the river freezes but according to authorities there is little possibility commercial passenger flights will be started over the England-Canada route until next spring.

Undaunted by the fact American and French airlines are operating trans-Atlantic services already, Imperial Airways and T.C.A., its Canadian agent, are completing plans for the British north Atlantic service which, it is claimed, will be without a peer.

PLANES WELL TESTED

The clipper planes in England are being tested 400 hours in the air before being put on the ocean hop. The new sleeve-valve engines, a long-service motor development, are being broken in.

All these precautions have contributed to the delay in inaugurating the route.

The clippers will land here after the flight from Botwood and will continue on to New York. Return flights to England will be made via Boucherville and Botwood.

HITLER WILL STAND PAT ON DANZIG FIGHT

Intends Free City To Become Part of Reich At Convenience

By MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER

Associated Press Foreign Staff

MUNICH, July 17.—Nazi leaders assembled here with Reich-Fuehrer Hitler expressed the opinion Saturday that Germany is standing pat on the Polish question and intends that at least Danzig shall become a part of the Reich "as soon as it is convenient."

Recent indications were that Hitler would be satisfied with the return of the Free City as the first step toward obtaining greater concessions from Poland in Pomorze—the Polish corridor which separates East Prussia from Germany proper.

METHOD DISCUSSED

The most talked about method for bringing about the proposed union of Danzig and Germany is that of a declaration by the Danzigers that they no longer are bound by the Free City constitution as created by the Treaty of Versailles and that they henceforth are a part of the Reich.

Nazis then would see what, if anything, happened from the side of Poland and her British and French allies.

CORRIDOR PROBLEM

Although the larger corridor problem has not been played up in Germany recently as much as has eventual union of the Free City with Germany, informed quarters expressed a belief it had by no means been postponed but merely was being held in abeyance for tactical reasons.

The German public has not been permitted to forget that East Prussia is cut off from Germany by the corridor.

DEATH TOLL IN MINE EXPLOSION NOW SET AT 28

PROVIDENCE, Ky., July 17. —Bodies of nine men were found deep in the Duvin coal mine by a rescue crew early today, raising to 28 the death toll from an explosion last Friday night.

Bodies of the other 19 victims were found Saturday. Ten men escaped safely from the mine following the blast.

John Daniel, state mine inspector, said efforts to remove the bodies from the mine probably would not be renewed until later in the morning. He explained additional ventilations was necessary to clear air in the mine.

Earlier, a rescue squad had began the task of taking bodies of the 19 men found previously to the surface, but Daniel said poor air conditions slowed the work.

Soviet Warplanes Bombard Manchu Railway Centre

By RUSSELL BRINES

Associated Press Foreign Staff

HSINKING, Manchukuo, July 17.—Japanese military headquarters reported Soviet Russian warplanes bombed Furoruji, railway point southwest of Tsitsihar, Sunday in a before-dawn raid in which seven persons were wounded and two buildings destroyed.

The Japanese-dominated Manchukuo government lodged a strong protest at Ulan Bator (Urgar), capital of Russian-protected Outer Mongolia.

The attack was the third reported within a week by Soviet planes against Manchukuoan railway centres and was the deepest the Soviet airmen have penetrated into Manchukuo territory since intermittent fighting started on the Outer Mongolia border May 11.

U. S. Grain Crop Has Market Value Of Two Billions

CHICAGO, July 17.—The 1939 United States grain crop has a market valuation in excess of $2,000,000,000, trade statisticians estimated today.

This wealth, to be distributed among several million producers and those who direct the flow of grain to market, is based on prices which in some cases are the lowest or near the lowest, in the past several years. It would be realized through the marketing or use of approximately 4,453,000,000 bushels which, favorable weather permitting, will be harvested before winter. Corn, oats and wheat comprise the bulk of the crop, part of which has been harvested, with barley, rye and other minor grains adding to the total yield.

The 1939 harvest would be nearly 400,000,000 bushels smaller than that of 1938 and 500,000,000 bushels smaller than the 1937 crop, but with those exceptions it would be equal to or larger than any crop in the past seven years.

Celebration of Confederation Is Underway In P.E.I.

CHARLOTTETOWN, July 14.—Prince Edward Island's celebration of the 75th anniversary of the meeting in Charlottetown which led to Confederation got under way Sunday.

Churches throughout the island observed the anniversary with special services while at Charlottetown 1,000 troops held an open air service.

In the afternoon, many of the visitors to Prince Edward Island for the celebration were guests of Premier Thane A. Campbell and Mrs. Campbell at their summer home at Stanley Bridge. Guests included rerecsentatives of most of the provinces of Canada.

Miss Toronto

Once upon a time track and field events were the feature of the games held annually by the Toronto police department, but now beauty is the theme, and herewith is the young lady chosen as "Miss Toronto" for 1939. Her name, Nan Morris, born 23 years ago in London, England, and "not a jitterbug or glamor girl." Nor involved romantically—as yet.

DEATH CLAIMS DR. GALBRAITH AT LETHBRIDGE

Pioneer Alberta Medical Man Resident Of Alberta Since 1900

LETHBRIDGE, July 17.—Death occurred Sunday morning of Dr. Walter Stuart Galbraith, dean of Lethbridge medical men, after a lingering illness. He had practised here continuously since 1900 and was active in civic affairs, having served as mayor, councillor and in many other capacities.

Dr. Galbraith was born in Guelph, Ont., on August 1, 1866, and first came to Lethbridge in 1891 to manage the drug business of J. D. Higinbotham. He returned to the east and after obtaining his degree in medicine began practising here.

During the first years of his practise when the west was still being pioneered, the frontier doctor visited many of his patients on horseback.

MAYOR IN 1907

He was elected mayor of Lethbridge in 1907 and was re-elected to the city council in 1928, acting as councillor until 1932, when he retired from that body. From 1904 to 1912 the doctor was a member of the public school board, acting as chairman in 1912. The Galbraith school in North Lethbridge was named in his honor. Dr. Galbraith acted as medical supervisor of Lethbridge public schools from Sept. 1934 until his passing.

A member of numerous lodges and the Old Timers' Association, the doctor was also a member of the Lethbridge board of trade and headed that body in 1928. He also held offices in church organizations, belonging to the Methodist church.

LIBERAL CANDIDATE

A Liberal in politics, Dr. Galbraith was candidate of that party in the provincial elcetion of 1926, Andrew Smeaton, Labor candidate, being successful. He had also been president of the Liberal Association and took part in platform campaigns in almost all elections of the past 30 years.

Deceased was a member of the senate of the University of Alberta from 1908 until 1921; member of the various medical associations; president of the Alberta Medical Association in 1919; president of the Dominion council in 1936; member of the executive committee of the Canadian Medical Association in 1937; and president several times of the provincial council of the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

The medical man took a large part in establishing the Workmen's Compensation Board in 1917 and 1918. Dr. Galbraith is survived by his widow, Mrs. Matilda S. Galbraith of Lethbridge; a son, Dr. Frank O., of Stettler; and two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Webb of Three Hills and Miss Jean of Lethbridge.

Farmer Alleges He Is Swindled Of Life Saving

Mounted Police are investigating an alleged confidence trick in which a Chipman farmer declares he was swindled out of $685, his life's savings. The farmer, Mike Sorochek, told police that he brought a stranger from Hilliard to do some work for him.

This man told him that by placing his money in a "magic book" he could double it in 48 hours. They did this, placed the book in a box, locked it and Sorochek took it in his care. When he opened the box in 48 hours it was empty.

Automatic Guidance Of Automobiles on Highways Possible

NEW YORK, July 17.—Highways on which cars can do 100 miles an hour safely, while the the driver, if he wishes, takes his hands off the wheel, are scientifically possible.

Such a road, as explained by Norman Bell Geddes, designer, would contan an axis, or perhaps slot, either of light or of magnetism. The beams of either would be picked up by automatic control instruments in a car.

The effect would be the same as hitching cars to an endless rod, travelling 100 miles an hour, keeping them uniformly spaced apart, safe from any kind of collision.

"In present day traffic," he said, "the guidance of a car is entirely in the hands of the individual and that individual is prone to fatigue, to inattention, to reflexes and normal reactions and bullheadedness. As a result of these human factors traffic moves slowly and dangerously.

"This obstructon can be overcome only by providing for automatic guidance of the car on the highway.

Four Groups Chemists Working Independently Find New Vitamin K

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, July 17.—In one of the greatest scientific feats ever recorded, four groups of chemists, working independently, reported simultaneously today the synthesis of vitamin K, the new vitamin that stops internal bleeding.

Although haemophilia, the "Royal Curse" type of bleeding, is not much affected by the vitamin, it stops bleeding in a large number of spectacular but far more numerous and more frequently fatal diseases.

MADE FROM COAL TAR

The vitamin previously was extracted from alfalfa. The chemists made it from coal tar. To the surprise of the scientific world, the artificial vitamin has four times the potency of natural vitamin K. Hardly ever is a synthetic chemical so much better than the natural one.

The "tip" which set four groups of scientists simultaneously on the trail of the synthesis is even more unusual that the unprecedented fact of four sets of workers all succeeding at the same time on a chemical job that usually takes years. The clue came from tuberculosis germs.

From the bodies of these germs, at Yale university a few years ago, was extracted a yellow, oily, previously unknown substance. It was named phtyiocol. Recently it was discovered this oil contained something, a chemical made by the bacteria, which had vitamin activity.

The simultaneous synthesis was announced in the journal of the American Chemical society. The four groups were scientists of Harvard university working with Northwestern university, the Squibbs Institute, the University of California, and St. Louis university.

LIFE-SAVING QUALITIES

Vitamin K was discovered six years ago by Dr. H. Dam, a biological chemist working in Copenhagen, Denmark. Its life-saving values have come forward with a rush during the past two years. Only last week the proceedings of the Mayo clinic described several troubles, usually after operations, which for years had mystified the doctors at the clinic and which now are usually relieved quickly by vitamin K.

The vitamin stops internal bleeding, helping the human body to produce protherombin, the substance which clots blood. Experiments with the vitamin have revealed that when the body lacks this essential, it is possible for internal haemorrhage to start with but slightly apparent cause.

Herridge's New Party Injects Uncertain Element In Canadian Politics

By ROD MacINNES

British United Press

OTTAWA, Ont., July 17. — The apearance on the political horizon of Hon. W. D. Herridge's New Democracy party has injected an element of uncertainty as to the outcome of next general election —rumored for next fall—but a poll of veteran observers here indicates that Canada is headed for another Liberal administration.

It is conceded, however, that Prime Minister Mackenzie King will not enjoy the majority in the next parliament which he has held for the past four years.

Some quarters say the old line parties will be forced to minimize past differences in order to present a somewhat united front to a common foe—New Democracy. The opening guns of the New Democracy campaign have not yet been levelled at the present administration but at the old political order.

HERRIDGE PLEDGED

Herridge has pledged himself to forego party politics and attack Canada's problems from an individual aspect.

While the Liberals are prepared to defend themselves against the outbursts of the new party leader, they refuse to become unduly worried. The heavy guns of the Liberal campaign will be pointed westward to combat an advance of the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation.

In British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan Liberal leaders foresee the encroachment of Socialist candidates. Predictions say that the C.C.F. will capture at least two seats from the Social Credit party in Alberta and will cut the Liberal representation in both British Columbia and Saskatchewan. Manitoba is expected to maintain its present position.

WILL BE WATCHED

Progress of the Conservative party will be watched with more tnan ordinary interest here. The presence of a new leader and also New Democracy, which some quarters claim was inspired by former Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, may offer some problems to the Tory party.

Although Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion was elected to the leeadership by a fairly substantial majority, he has still to weather the acid test of party popularity—a general election.

As far as New Democracy and its threat to the party is concerned, some observers claim the Conservatives may find themselves in a position similar to that of 1935, when Hon. H. H. Stevens broke from the party lines and formed the Reconstruction organization. Stevens split the Conservative vote which resulted in an overwhelming defeat.

Some believe that in Herridge, die-hard Conservative supporters of R. B. Bennett, may see a disciple of Canada's elder statesman and as a result shift their allegiance from the old party to that of the new.

Hitler's Austrian Edict Made Three Months In Advance

BERLIN, July 17—Reichfuehrer Hitler disclosed Saturday his decision to take Austria was reached as early as December, 1937, three months before the annexation.

Writing for a magazine "Art in the Third Reich," the Fuehrer said:

"I decided in December and January 1937-38 to liquidate the Austrian question and thereby erect a great German Reich."

This varies from the official version hitherto current, that German troops were sent into Austria March 12, 1938, only in response to the famous telegram calling for help to maintain order sent by Dr. Arthur Seyss-Inquart, interior minister in the government of Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg.

Clark Lund, 25, Takes Home Rodeo Championships

CALGARY, July 17. — Clark Lund, 25-year-old tanned member of a famed riding family, Saturday took home to Raymond, Alta., two championships, the Canadian and North American "all-round" cowboy titles, and prizes won in three other finals Saturday at Calgary's Stampede.

Clark, who dethroned Herman Linder, perennial champion, was second in the feature event, the North American bucking, with saddle, second in the bareback horse riding, and third in the wild steer riding. His brother, A. K. Lund of Milk River, was second in the Canadian championship bucking horse, with saddle, final.

Danzig's Youth March and Sing As City Trembles

DANZIG, July 17.—Boys and girls in Nazi organizations marched and sang in the free city's old streets Saturday night while Europe's most-watched trouble spot waited in a dead political calm for the results of Reichsfuehrer Hitler's latest counsel to Albert Forster, his Danzig lieutenant.

Forster, the local Nazi leader, was expected back next week after his conferences with the German fuehrer Thursday and Friday.

Forster's aides believed he would have new instructions but that they would in essence counsel Danzig Nazis once more to be patient.

Party leaders here still were confident, however, that Germany soon would find a way to annex Danzig and Forster's telephone calls from Germany they said made them more optimistic.

Strike Threatens Armour Packers

CHICAGO, July 17.—Representatives of the packing house workers organizing committee Monday voted to call a strike at 17 plants of Armour and Company if the big packing firm declined to negotiate contracts with the union, affiliated wth the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Van A. Bittner, chairman of the P.W.O.C., declared the convention's action meant "either joint wage agreements or the damnedest strike you ever saw in this great industry."

MANION SAYS NO VARIATION TORY POLICIES

Will Not Permit Any Group To Dictate To His Party

By FRANK FLAHERTY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

RIVIERE DU LOUP, Que., July 17.—Policies of the National Conservative Party formulated at the party's 1938 convention can not be varied by any group in the Senate or elsewhere, Hon. R. J. Manion, Conservative leader, declared here Saturday night. He was referring particularly to the party's opposition to railway unification and a recent Senate vote in favor of unification.

Dr. Manion rested at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. D. L. Desaulniers, Sunday after a week's speaking tour in the counties of south-eastern Quebec. He will return to Ottawa early in the week.

At the last meeting of his tour, he repeated his charge that the absence of 19 Liberal senators the day the senate voted on unification was a "piece of Liberal trickery," resigned to embarras himself, by making it appear the Conservative party favored unification. Had only five of the 19 absent Liberal senators attended and voted against unification the motion would have been defeated.

ONLY ONE TO OPPOSE

"I am the leader of the Conservative party and only I can speak for it. When I begin to step aside for any other person in declaring the policy of this party I will step aside from the leadership altogether. I will not permit any group, whether in the senate or elsewhere to dictate to the Conservative party."

Since 1934 he had been the only public man to oppose the unification plan, Dr. Manion said. No member of the Liberal government had spoken against it. In a few weeks, probably at some railway centre in Ontario, he proposed to give details of his plan for making co-operation between the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways more effective.

Elliott Roosevelt Denounces Stories Of Father Coughlin

NEW YORK, July 17. — Elliott Roosevelt denounced Rev. Charles E. Coughlin in a broadcast Saturday as anti-Semitic, "a compounder of stories" and as being financially interested in his silver monetization activities.

"I dislike censorship in any form, but even censorship might not be too high a price to pay if it will help insulate us against the anti-Semitic oratory of the radio priest out in Royal Oak, Mich.," said the president's son in the 19th of his tri-weekly sponsored talks.

Father Coughlin, he said, "must have followed with a great deal of interest the recent action of the silver inflationists in Congress . . . he is an expert on silver. Before the treasury department released those interesting figures concerning his monetary activities, he bought up 500,000 ounces of silver."

Raymond Massey Married Quietly To N.Y. Socialite

New YORK, July 17.—Socially prominent Dorothy Ludingon Whitney today announced her marriage to Raymond Massey, Toronto-born stage star, who has been playing the title role in "Abe Lincoln In Illinois." They were married quietly last Monday, she said.

The bride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Nelson Amos Ludington of New Haven, Conn., was married previously to William D. Whitney. Massey's marriage to Adrinne Allen, actress, ended in a Reno divorce July 7.

English Editor Says Germany Is Not Capable Stand Strain of War

LONDON, July 17.—Peace is likely because Germany, working her men, money and machines to capacity, may not be capable of the enormous sustained extra effort required by war, Norman Crump, financial editor of the Sunday Times (Ind.) wrote Sunday.

Back from a continental tour, Mr. Crump said the incentive for higher profits would quickly lead to inflation, and Germany now is dodging this by introducing tax certificates which government contractors are forced to accept as part payment.

"Even if peace is maintained, their maturity will create a serious financial problem for the Reich," he wrote.

Mr. Crump argued that neutral countries would insist on immediate payment in their own currencies for all goods supplied Germany, and this "would put Germany in an impossible position and indeed would constitute the first line in any blockade."

The writer added that international business houses with large investments in Germany, fearing expropriation of their holdings, would swing their great weight on the side of peace.

Edgar D. McCallum, Prominent Reginan, Dies of His Injuries

REGINA, July 17.—Edgar Donald McCallum, 59, prominent Regina business man for more than 35 years, died Sunday from injuries received in a motor accident Friday near Elkhorn, Man.

The accident was caused by a punctured tire. Mr. McCallum and his companion, Cecil D. McRae, of Coutts, Alta., were returning to Regina after a business trip to Winnipeg. Mr. McRae escaped with minor injuries.

Mr. McCallum was prominent and popular in business and social circles in Regina. He was president of McCallum and Hill and Company, Ltd., and president of the Saskatchewan Guarantee and Fidelity Company, Ltd. He was also director of the Regina Cartage and Storage Company and director of other firms.

Mr. McCallum is also survived by two brothers, H. M. McCallum in the insurance business in Toronto, and Archie McCallum, retired, Victoria, B.C., and a sister, Mrs. Maude Gordon, Toronto.

Big Bend Road Finished This Year Declares Deputy

By THOMAS WAYLING

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, July 17. — The Big Bend highway and the Banff section of Trans-Canada highway will be completed this year, opening up the through road transport through the prairies and British Columbia.

This was indicated today by Dr. Charles Camsell, deputy minister of mines and resources. Dr. Camsell will leave shortly for the west to personally inspect the progress on these two sections.

British Officer Flies To Warsaw For Staff Talks

LONDON, July 17—The new Inspector-General of the British overseas forces, General Sir Edmund Ironside, took off from Croydon airport for Warsaw today for staff talks with the Polish high military command.

War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha and a number of high officers at about the same time took off for a tour of anti-aircraft gun positions and searchlights in Yorkshire.

As General Ironside left it was understood the question of Great Britain, France and Poland acting under under a unified command in event of war would be discussed in Warsaw.

French staff officers arranged talks with Turkish military experts at Ankara, the Turkish capital, on defence plans under the Franco-Turkish pact.

PARIS, July 17.—An early trip to Poland appeared likely today by General Maurice Gamelin, commander-in-chief of all France's armed forces, to discuss Franco-Polish military co-operation in case of emergency.

Help Keep The Tradition

Edmonton has an enviable tradition of freedom from street accidents during Fair Week and on other occasions when large numbers of people have been drawn into the city to join in popular celebrations. This in fact is a bright spot in an accident-record which of late has been marked and marred by tragedies. These have not been the times when mishaps were most numerous or most serious in their results. It is almost literally true that Edmonton streets have been safest when they have been most crowded. For the reason, no doubt, that when the streets are crowded every person exercises more caution than is thought to be necessary when traffic is less dense.

Not only will the streets be congested at times during the present week; many of the visitors will have come from distant points, and these will not be familiar with the streets, traffic signs or regulations. The townsfolk, whether driving or walking, can help to keep the streets safe if they remember this fact. A good rule is to assume that the chap driving the other car, or trying to get across the roadway, is a stranger to the city; therefore entitled to courtesy as a guest—and not to be expected to know all the ins and outs of local traffic conditions and conventions.

Exception Proves the Rule

Minneapolis has a New Deal strike. Relief workers employed by the Works Progress Administration quit their jobs because Congress said they should work 130 hours per month. And, having quit, undertook to prevent others carrying on. A riot was staged on Monday in which the continuing workers were pelted with pebbles, sticks and broken glass, and a policeman was so badly beaten that he died.

This is no affair of Canadians, but it is our privilege to draw what inferences it suggests as a guide in dealing with the unemployment problem — which Canada shares with the United States. A 130 hour work month figures down to a five hour work day, with Sundays off. If this is all the strikers are objecting to, the incident is far from encouraging as to the practicability of solving unemployment by carrying out relief work enterprises. Men who are not willing to work five hours a day, just do not want to work at all.

It is impossible to suppose the Minneapolis strikers in that respect represent the attitude of more than a small percentage of the unemployed in the United States. They do not represent the attitude of any considerable proportion of the idle in Canada, for relief works here have been carried on successfully on scales small and large. Whatever may be the case elsewhere, unemployed men in Canada in the vast majority want work; and work projects are the most effective means yet found to deal with the problem here.

Not Our Affair

It will do no harm if Canadians remember at this juncture that it is no part of our business to tell Prime Minister Chamberlain who he should take into his cabinet or leave out of it. Since Canada is inevitably involved in the European crisis, we are entitled to hold opinions on the subject, and to express them with proper reserve. But anything in the nature of a Canadian "boom" for the inclusion of Anthony Eden and Winston Churchill would be both bad taste and bad policy. Whether it succeeded or failed, the reaction would be damaging to British-Canadian feeling, and the precedent positively dangerous. We do not expect the people in the Old Lands to concern themselves too openly in the composition of the cabinet of this Dominion, and would resent their impertinence if they did. We have no more right to meddle in their cabinet-making.

There is little doubt that to most Canadians the inclusion of Eden and Churchill would strengthen both the mental capacity and the moral stamina of the Chamberlain ministry. But having said that much, we have exhausted our proper prerogative. Nor should it be forgotten what Lincoln once said about the danger of "swapping horses while crossing a stream." Mr. Chamberlain has more intimate knowledge than any one else can have as to what and how serious the reaction at Rome and Berlin would be. It is not to be forgotten that of all Britishers, Mr. Eden is honored by the peculiar dislike of Mussolini. That Hitler literally hates Churchill he has taken every convenient opportunity to explain. If there is any probability that reason will prevail with either of them, these are obviously not the men to choose to carry on the negotiations.

It was, with all respect, a mistake to drop Eden from the cabinet; and another mistake to not take Churchill in when Hitler played false to his Munich understanding. But to take them in now is a somewhat different proposition.

Editorial Notes

Southern England was in darkness for six hours Saturday evening while the air defence forces tested their arrangements to frustrate enemy air raiders. No one seems to have suggested that only fortified places, military camps and munitions factories would need protection. Civilization has reverted to the point where nobody expects military operations to be restricted to military objectives.

Arrangements have been completed, it is said, by which all the children in London could be shipped out to country homes in six hours. Still we are told the "war scare" is worse, much worse, in Canada than it is in England, due mainly to sensationalism on the part of Canadian newspapers. Perhaps the British authorities are supplying back-yard shelters and gas masks, digging refuge caves, and planning evacuations just for the mental exercise.

The famous Royal blue train has been demobilized, and the cars put back into regular service, while the engines went to the New York Fair prior to taking on the prosaic job of hauling ordinary passenger or freight trains. The somewhat prevalent notion that the cars had been specially constructed for the occasion is a mistake. They were taken from regular service and "fixed up" a bit, as the Minister of Transport told parliament. The standard type of Canadian railway carriage is fit for a king.

Mr. C. George McCullagh announces that the headquarters of his Leadership League have been closed, meaning apparently that the organization is in a state of dissolution. The reason given is that the public did not respond strongly enough, or in the right way, to the appeal for support; in fact they only sent in $300 to meet organization expenses which ran to $30,000, in addition to $75,000 paid by the Globe and Mail for the radio broadcasts which started the League on its brief career.

By J. S. COWPER

SUPER-SUBS ARE TOO BIG

Simon Lake, father of the submarine, has been interviewed on the three disasters to super-subs of Britain, France and United States. He says the underlying trouble is that submarines today are built too big. "There is too much to look after at one time; too many chances for someone to make a mistake." More than a thousand men have lost their lives in peace-time catastrophes such as sunk the Thetis, Phenix and Squalus.

The Squalus accident seems to have been caused by failure of an air-induction valve to close—or the failure of someone to close it. This valve is 31 inches in diameter, used to carry away fumes from the diesel engines which give power for running on the surface. The engines are shut off when the sub prepares to sink. The valve must be closed very quickly. One wonders why a check-valve device is not used, designed so that any incoming water would automatically trip it.

Try as men may, the element of human error can never be totally overcome. A man has indigestion, he has quarrelled with his sweetheart or wife, or he is indulging in day-dreaming—and the thing is done. I recall so simple a device as an inverted U syphon to suck out bilge water from a speed boat when running, getting the better of four men, each of whom knew its principle. Our equipment put the boat down at the stern below the top of the syphon. We were all busy planning a trip and didn't realize it was filling when we tied up at a wharf.

ABSENT-MINDED MUSICIAN

Are you another of those chaps who sometimes pause at a book-store on the way home, and lay your parcels on top of the pile while you glance through the book that takes your eye? Report of a police court trial in London comes as a warning. Hyman Greenbaum, conductor of the B.B.C.'s Television Orchestra, director of the Queen's Hall Orchestra and of the Russian Ballet, was charged in London a few days ago, with stealing two volumes from a bookstore. He was seen to pick them up with other books he had bought elsewhere and walk off with them. When a man of eminence in the musical world is charged with so paltry a crime, it arouses public interest.

Evidence of two famous conductors, Sir Hamilton Harty and Sir Adrien Bouet, together with that of his wife, Miss Sidonia Goosens, famous harpist, and members of his orchestra, established that Mr. Greenbaum is of unimpeachable character but a victim of incorrigible absent-mindedness. The Bow Street magistrate accepted his story that he had bought books at two book stores, called at a third, became interested in two books and walked off with them, forgetful that he had not paid.

"He's just a child in financial affairs," declared his harpist wife. "I have to be wife, mother and nurse to him. I don't know how he got on before I married him. I have had to stop letting him have a check-book because he writes checks for anyone who wants one. I've had to ration him to ten shillings pocket money a day, and that he spends on treating people. I've known him sit up all night with a pot of coffee, arranging opera parts for orchestras and forget to come to bed till he saw it was daylight. I have to see that he is properly dressed before he goes out. He's just as likely to put on a pyjama coat for a shirt. He leaves hats and overcoats and mackintoshes about and forgets where he left them. The only things he isn't absent-minded about are music and cooking. He's a far better cook than I am."

Life should never lack interest in the Greenbaum household.

SAYS LONDON IS NOW READY

A friend who should know says there's no doubt now about London's ability to defend itself from the air. The miracle wrought by artillery experts is such that experts predict the loss of the bulk of the German air fleet inside of eight weeks should it be sent to bomb the British capital. Thirty new factories for manufacture of guns have been built and sixty others enlarged. One type of gun in a permanent emplacement fires nine 55-pound shells a minute to a height of seven miles; the famous 3.7 guns fire twelve 30-pound shells a minute to the same height. Two other types of lighter, quicker firing guns are intended to spray bombers, as they dive to attack certain anticipated objectives. Electric predicters give the aim with calculated adjustments. Even then it isn't necessary to score a direct hit. A shell a hundred yards away can bring a plane down.

John Bull is through with forbearance. His sleeves are rolled up now.

EDUCATION BY EMOTION

Educational leaders have again been in convention, and they seem to agree that our schools are cluttered up with too many incidentals and extras and non-essentials. Boys and girls, it was said, are taught nearly everything except how to think.

Curious, isn't it, how the experts overlook the essentials? There is often more of real education in a single emotional experience than in a whole college course. A vital transaction with Jesus Christ has often, as in the case of Paul, changed commonplace lives into greatness. Powers are enkindled by this new relationship which would have lain dormant under conventional training.

To experience Christ has all through the ages been doing for countless persons what it did for the first disciples.

Awaken all our powers and teach us new aspirations, O Master, by a complete yielding to Thee, as our Saviour and God. Amen.

Slaughter on the Highways

Casualties upon the highways of Ontario this year will exceed the number of Canadians killed and maimed in the Battle of Vimy Ridge.

The death toll from motor accidents in Canada will be heavier than the loss of life in the sinking of the Lusitania, which sent a thrill of horror throughout the civilized world.

Five thousand men, women and children have been slain and 75,000 injured by motor vehicles in Ontario in the last seven years.

There will be between 700 and 800 persons killed, 12,000 injured and $2,000,000 property damage done in 14,000 accidents in Ontario in 1939.

Last Editions

Before the civil war Madrid had 16 daily newspapers. Last week Madrid had four. Latest of the long list of Spanish papers suppressed by powerful Minister of the Interior Ramon Serrano Suner was the once-great A. B. C., which stayed Monarchist to the end.

Founded by Don Torcuato Luca de Tena, who was made a marques for his work, A. B. C. was long considered Spain's No. 1 newspaper. During the World War A. B. C. built a great new printing establishment and Don Torcuato never bothered to deny rumors that it was paid for by the Central Powers. After the peaceful revolution of 1931 A. B. C.'s was the loudest voice demanding restoration of the monarchy.

During the civil war the paper was in Republican hands, but the founder's son, Don Juan Ignacio Luca de Tena, continued to publish a Monarchist A. B. C. in Seville. When Franco took Madrid, Don Juan Ignacio got his paper back and immediately began publishing it in the old way: calling for the restoration of Alfonso. Franco tried to get rid of Luca de Tena by offering him an embassy, but Don Juan Ignacio refused. Last month A. B. C. published a defiant pro-Monarchist editorial. Next thing its readers knew, it had encountered a "shortage of paper" and folded.

Of the four papers remaining in Madrid, the morning Arriba and the evening Madrid are official organs of Serrano Suner's Falangists. The other two, Ya (morning) and Informaciones (evening), are under editors named by the Government, which means by the Minister of the Interior, Franco's strong-man brother-in-law (el Cunadisimo), Ramon Serrano Suner.

Far less gentle than his treatment of the Rightist press has been Serrano Suner's way of dealing with those journalists who supported the Republic. Last month all Spanish newspapermen got orders to present to the Government copies of what they had written against Franco during the civil war. By last week 35 of these journalists had been shot. Among the 35: Antonio Hermosilla, editor of Madrid's Leftist La Libertad; Modesto Sanchez Monreal, editor of Madrid's Leftist El Sol; Emilio Gabas, one-time editor of Madrid's El Socialsita; Federico Moreno, editor of Zaragoza's Herald de Aragon; and Javier Bueno, who was editor of Oviedo's Avance and one of Spain's greatest newspapermen.

Tough-minded Javier Bueno was a Socialist who, after the 1934 Republican-Socialist rebellion, was fined 32,000,000 pesetas and sentenced to death for being "ideologically responsible" for the rising. The death sentence was commuted to 30 years' imprisonment, but for good measure some officers of the Foreign Legion hanged Javier Bueno from the wall of his office in a harness of barbed wire and fed him copies of his Avance. Bueno got out of prison in the general amnesty that followed the 1936 elections and refused to join Largo Caballero's revolutionary movement. But when the Right revolted a few months later, Javier Bueno stuck with the Government, and that cost him his life.—Time, New York.

On This Date

By FRED WILLIAMS

Twenty-five years ago the people of Prince Edward Island prepared to celebrate the jubilee of one of the most important events in British American history—the holding at Charlottetown of the conference which resulted in the creation of the Dominion of Canada. But Kaiser Wilhelm and his generals decided that there should be war. And so the Charlottetown jubilee celebration had to be abandoned.

Now the seventy-fifth anniversary year has come and Prince Edward Island is going to let the whole world know that it, and Charlottetown in particular, is the Cradle of Confederation. A tablet to the Fathers will be unveiled; there will be quite a ceremony (to be broadcast by the C.B.C. at 10:30 a.m., eastern daylight saving time), and in the evening the C.B.C. will present an historical sketch, "Unity—A Cavalcade of Confederation" (eastern daylight saving time 9 p.m.).

The tablet to be unveiled at Charlottetown today speaks truly when it says:

"In the hearts and minds of the delegates who assembled in this room on September the first, 1864, was born the Dominion of Canada. Providence being their guide, they builded better than they knew."

"No, but I've a lighter."

He was driving her home from the dance. It was midnight, pitch dark and the road was lonely. Suddenly the car conked out, and the young man, having looked it over to see what was the matter, turned to the girl and said: "How unfortunate. The petrol tank seems to be full of water and we can't move a foot."

The girl gave a sigh, and said: "Come inside—this has happened to me before. All we have to do is to sit and argue for a time and the water turns right back into petrol."

Divide And Fail

Editor, Bulletin: There is no question that the vast majority of voters want the things which Mr. Herridge gave as the objectives of the New Democracy movement. Many, however, are asking how all this can be done. They do not realize that dividing over methods is the only way we can fail to do everything Herridge says—and more.

Unity is vital to progress. And unity can be realized only when the electorate concentrates on what it wants—not how to get it.

So let us unite, and achieve true democracy.

Assuming that Canada has the resources to supply materials, as well as the skill and energy required to build a million homes, the only reason why we shall not build them is that the people may not want so many.

And again, let us assume we had enough unemployed workers to change the iron and other resources of Canada into motor cars, as well as to produce enough surpluses to pay for needed imports. Under such circumstances, the one sound reason for each family not possessing a motor car will be that each family doesn't want one.

In a proper democracy the people decide these things. They decide the results they want. That right makes a democracy. The people generally aren't deeply concerned with how every result can be secured—because they haven't time to learn.

Why should every citizen aspire to be a financial expert when we have bankers who have dedicated their whole lives to finance. And why should each one of us know how to repair a vacuum cleaner when there are electricians devoted to the trade?

We as citizens of a new democracy shall possess the right to decide what we want. It shall be our sacred privilege to decide if we shall have a home and a car each, and whether or not weeds will grow upon the tracks of a rejuvenated railway system. And so forth.

Then, having made our decisions, it, is our equally sacred duty to help in the labor of getting the things we want. Some of us will go into the forests for lumber to build the houses. Some will dig the metal for cars. Others will run our great transportation systems so as to keep the weeds from growing.

And some of us will learn to devise methods by which these and all our other needs may be filled sooner.

In regard to the money required. Money is a device to measure our service and to distribute our production. Our financial system is nothing more than an elaborate system of bookkeeping. It will not be difficult to supply enough money to fulfill its true function. The banks complain they are full of it. As for the financial system, no one doubts the efficiency of bankers as bookkeepers.

So it will be a relatively simple matter for the bankers to provide all the money necessary to measure the service of citizens and to allow them to consume as much as it is possible to produce. Bankers can, moveover, keep accurate records of the amount necessary to do all this.

"It will be the job of the Bank of Canada," says Herridge, "to achieve the necessary increase in purchasing power in step with national wealth. Parliament will see that the Bank of Canada does its job."

And again. ". . . the banking system of Canada will raise purchasing power to the level of our capacity to produce, for the only purpose of the system will be the people's welfare. Ask any able, honest banker if thus enfranchised, the banking system will have the slightest difficulty in meeting our requirements. His answer, I predict, will be emphatically 'No.'"

Graham Towers was questioned on this point before the Committee on Banking and Commerce. He admitted that the Bank of Canada could increase the amount of silver or paper currency in circulation if it were the policy of the government to do so.

"Parliament, in any such matter," said Mr. Towers, "has completely sovereign power."

In the new democracy the people will decide the policy of the government—because the people shall have completely sovereign power.

How will all this be done? It will be done by uniting to demand results. When we do that there is no earthly power can stop us.

Religion Not Enough

Editor, Bulletin: There are certain people who claim that the trouble with the world today is spiritual, not economic, saying that men's souls must be saved ere aught can be done for their bodies.

Others there are who say we can do nothing, but must wait for a Messiah to come and put things right, making this an excuse for a laissez-faire attitude towards the situation, and a complacent disregard to the sufferings and misery around them.

That which pertains to the spiritual part of man is as personal and intimate as birth and death, but his economic or physical life should be the concern of all, seeing that we are the one common clay and children of the same mother, Earth.

In healing the sick, it matters not to the doctor whether the patient be saint or sinner, and if one should see another fellow-being in danger, say, of drowning, one does not wait for some celestial being to come and help, but, peeling off one's coat, one rushes to the rescue. The same logical commonsense should be applied to the larger issues that face us today.

They are often called Utopian, who believe that this present social order, which with all its resources and facilities for an abundant life for all, yet allows countless millions of men, women and little children to go short of the bare necessities of life. This system, which contains the seeds of perpetual war and by its very nature breeds hatred and greed, should give way to one more co-operative and more fitting to our intelligence. Yet, could anything be more Utopian than to believe that those who hold the peoples of the earth in economic bondage and who move governments like pawns on a chessboard, would, through some sudden religious conversion and of their own free will, surrender their power and be content to be common citizens in a co-operative commonwealth.

PILOT ADDRESSES COMMERCE BOARD

Pilot W. J. Windrum was guest of honor and speaker at Goldfields Chamber of Commerce banquet held at the Gerhardt hotel recently. Forty guests were present. Pilot Windrum spoke on plans of game conservation in northern Saskatchewan and advocated fur farms for trappers getting beyond the years of hitting hard winter trails.

Alex McGregory, Chamber of Commerce secretary, read a report on the July 1 sports held under the supervision of the organization. The report revealed gross receipts of $413.40 and a net profit of $219.88. It was also stated that Edmonton and Prince Albert business houses donated 265 pounds of prizes which were transported free of charge by Canadian Airways and Mackenzie Air Services. Prizes were given for ball, boat racing, paddling, running, jumping and other sports.

A motion to donate $50 towards defraying expenses of a children's picnic to be held July 29 was carried. Jim McAvoy, village overseer, agreed that the council would donate an additional $25 if necessary to cover any deficit. All transportation to and from the picnic grounds are free. It assures the kiddies of a real time.

TAKE THE "LEAD" FEELING OUT OF YOUR LEGS

Get More Oxygen In Your Blood and Get the Pep that Sends You Bounding Up the Stairs

People who smother to death die because oxygen has been completely cut off from them. Just as surely you are slowly smothering if your blood lacks red corpuscles. Red corpuscles are your oxygen-carriers. They carry the oxygen you breathe in to every part of your system. Without enough oxygen-carrying corpuscles, your kidneys, liver, stomach and bowels slow down. Your skin gets pale, flabby, often pimply. Your nerves may become jittery—you tire quickly—feel depressed.

What you need is Dr. Williams Pink Pills. These world-famous pills help make more and better red corpuscles and thus increase the oxygen-carrying power of your blood. Get Dr. Williams Pink Pills today at your druggist. See for yourself how quickly this time-proven blood-builder will help give you back your pep. Copr. 1938, G. T. Fulford Co., Ltd

Nears Century

Nearing the century mark is Mrs. Nels Westergard of Dickson, Alberta, who recently celebrated her 97th birthday. She is a native of Denmark and has been a resident of Alberta since 1904. Mrs. Westergard still performs many household duties in the home of her grandson, Mr. Mads Westergard, who farms four miles outside of Dickson. Shown above are five generations of Westergards. Grandma Westergard is seen seated at left front, while beside her are the late Mrs. J. Wellington, great-granddaughter and Eddie, great-great-grandson of Mrs. Westergard. Standing at the left is her son Nels Westergard and on the right is Mrs. S. Dobson of Olds, a grand-daughter.

LAST RITES HELD FOR MISS DAHL

Funeral services for Miss Gwendolyn Dahl, 23, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Dahl, who passed away recently after a serious illness of five months, were held from the United church here, with Rev. T. Stainton officiating, assisted by Rev. Stevinson of McLennan.

Miss Dahl was born in Bashaw in 1916 and has spent all her life here. She was an active church member and has been president and secretary of the United Young People's club for a number of years, and she will be greatly missed by her many friends.

She is survived by her father and mother and one brother, Warren, of Pincher Creek.

The pallbearers were Harry Stevinson, Lloyd Williams, Normie Holt, Bert Nelson, Donald Sutley, Holwer Mohler. Honorary pallbearers were: Walter Jackshaw, Edwin Peterson, Milton Nelson, John Jackshaw, Bill Shipley, Lenard Johnson. Interment took place in the Bashaw cemetery.

Foster and McGarvey of Edmonton were in charge of funeral arrangements.

Two trucks collided, spilled 10 gallons of beer on a Colorado highway. Every passer-by wanted to help clear up the wreckage.

RED DEER

SCHOOLS ENGAGE TWO SPECIALISTS

The Red Deer Public School Board and the Innisfail School Board have jointly engaged specialists to teach general shop and household economics in the two schools starting this fall. John L. Pollock, at present teaching general shop and academic subjects in Innisfail, has been hired to teach general shop. He holds a senior certificate in general shop.

Miss Berniece Macfarlane, of Lacombe, has been engaged to teach household economics. She holds a teacher's certificate in household science from Macdonald College, Guelph, Ont. Both appointments are subject to suitable salary arrangements being made with the new teachers.

The matter of engaging the specialists was the subject of discussion at a special joint meeting of the Red Deer and Innisfail boards held at Red Deer. The local board was represented by Dr. J. B. Long, chairman; Trustees H. E. Bawtinhimer, Dr. R. M. Parsons, A. M. Filmer, and S. Pamely, secretary. Innisfail board members present were O. Lundgren, R. Stewart, Dr. W. F. Carscallen and Dr. C. J. Greene.

The teachers will give full time to their subjects and will teach three days in Red Deer and two in Innisfail each week. The salaries will be divided between the two schools and the Department of Education. Red Deer will pay three-tenth, Innisfail two-tenth, and the department one-half.

RED DEER

The Red Deer Agricultural Society have opened an office in the North West Motors building and will maintain the office until after the annual fair on August 3, 4, and 5. Fair-Secretary Walter Miller is in charge and is busy these days giving out information about the Fair.

MAIDSTONE

About 359 persons attended the barn dance put on by Mr. and Mrs. Anton Lundquist of Dry Gully, about 20 miles northwest of Maidstone. It was in aid of the proposed new hospital for Maidstone. About $75 was added to the hospital fund.

LLOYDMINSTER

Constituting a record for Western Canada, the derrick and drilling rig of the Shaw Petroleum No. 1 well was moved on to the cellar of the No. 2 well of the same company, a distance of three-quarters of a mile in four and a half hours, recently.

R. L. Shaw plans drilling five wells in the Lloydminster oil and gas field this season and this new method of moving was adopted to have time over the old system of tearing down and rebuilding. A crew of 27 men were engaged on the job. J. F. Crosby of Landis, Sask., was the contractor in charge of moving and Lee Green, a power farmer of Dewberry, supplied two large Diesel caterpillars to haul the 90-foot derrick over rough and wooded land.

Celebrates

MRS. S. L. BREADY

Loyal supporter of the Orange Lodge who celebrated her 74th birthday July 12 by attending the annual celebrations held by the Edmonton and Fort Saskatchewan Orangemen's Lodges at Adrossan. Mrs. Bready, resident of the Ardrossan district for the past 39 years, has played an important role in the development of the community. She was postmistress in the area for some 20 years and at present is a justice of the peace.

GWYNNE

Mr. and Mrs. E. Johnson, Lorain and Albert, accompanied by Robert Ochner, spent a week at Banff. Mr. and Mrs. Percy Dole have as their guests Mrs. Dole's father, Mr. P. J. Kuester and Mrs. Kuester, of Lynwood, California, and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Aiken, of Portland, Oregon.

VEGREVILLE

The office of the Vegreville subdivision, R.C.M.P., which have been in the post office building for a number of years, has been moved to the Bank of Montreal building. The Criminal Investigation and Excise branches of the service will occupy the offices vacated by the subdivision. It is reported that Inspector Allen of Regina, who was to succeed Inspector P. H. Tucker as commanding officer of this subdivision, will be unable to take over his duties here due to ill health.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE

The ogopogo has been seen again, but 20 miles up the river from the ford at Rocky where it was first seen. Four Stoney Indians were rowing down the river when they claim the monster chased them. They made for shore, abandoned their boat and walked to town. They stood at a safe distance from the shore and say they saw the monster destroy their boat. They say it was a huge gray animal, so ferocious that they still shiver when they speak of it.

VEGREVILLE

Directors of the Vegreville Exhibition Association meeting Thursday reported that plans for the 1939 exhibition are well on the way. J. Fitzallen, secretary of the association, states that the advance sale of tickets and the sale of admission tickets on which a Chevrolet car is being offered as a premium is satisfactory.

The personnel of the "Pageant of the Empire" in which eighty-one girls and twenty boys of Vegreville and the surrounding towns will take part, is nearing completion and rehearsals will start within a few days. The Hamilton Booking Agency of Winnipeg is in charge of this feature attraction and a ten-piece orchestra from Winnipeg will provide the music.

BREMNER

The U.F.A. picnic, held at Bremner recreation grounds Wednesday afternoon was well attended, and the afternoon was packed with varied events. Sports, from bowling, and horseshoe, to broom ball races, and relays, attracted many onlookers and participants, while the softball diamond was never idle except when the ladies served the bounteous supper under the trees at the West end of the grounds. The softball games were as follows: Lakeside won from Agricola; Agricola girls beat the Clover Bar girls; East Clover Bar boys beat Centre and North Clover Bar. In the evening a baseball game between the marred men and the single men resulted in a tie.

Live Stock and Grain Are Foundation Stone Edmonton Exhibition

Foundation stone of the Edmonton Exhibition directors' policy since the first fair, the livestock and grains shows will again be the big events of the Edmonton Royal Visit Year Exhibition opening Monday. From Ontario, British Columbia and the prairie provinces come discriminating livestock breeders, leaders in their own provinces and among Canadian livestock men, to compete with and to stimulate interest and breaden the ideals of Alberta breeders.

Main drawing card to these men from outside the province are the top-notch facilities, barn accommodation, calibre of judges and officials, and the prize list offered by the Edmonton directors.

The total prize list for the Edmonton Exhibition has grown gradually year by year to approximately $43,000 for the 1939 show. This compares with $38,000 for 1938, and $174 for the first Edmonton far in 1879.

ENTRIES ARE UP

Total entries this year in the live stock classes are up one from last year, to 1414, as compared with 1342 in 1937. Light horses show a slight decline from last year, while heavy horses show a steady increase over the last three years. Cattle totals are down slightly from last year, while sheep entries are up this year. Swine show a steady climb for the last three years, being 166 in 1937, 196 in 1938 and 204 this year.

The following judges will place the awards in the various live stock classes this year: light horses, H. G. Parker, Midnapore; Clydesdales, J. Harvie, Lacombe; Percherons and Belgians, C. M. Rear, Saskatoon; Hereford cattle, R. A. Watt, Dayton, Washington.

Aberdeen Angus, W. D. Lyon, Calgary; Ayrshires, A. C. Anderson, Calgary; Red Poll, Prof. J. P. Sackville, University of Alberta; Holstein Friesians, V. Bjorkeland, Red Deer; Jerseys, W. S. Wainwright, Vancouver; swine, A. D. Munro, Saskatoon, and sheep, A. Spurrell, University Farm, Edmonton.

BREEDERS ENTERING

The total number of breeders who have entered this year's show follow: light horses, 54; heavy horses, 34; cattle, 28; sheep, 18, and swine, 19.

Exhibition officials have made arrangements for handling six barns full of cattle, approximately 480 head of show stock. Light and heavy show horses will occupy six barns, or about 156 head, while the arena stalls will also be filled with another 124 head, making a total of 280 show horses this year. It is expected that 85 pens will be required for sheep in one barn, and another 94 pens for swine in another barn. Racing horses will occupy the new barns, numbered one, two, three and four, and seven regular horse barns, with shed and corral room provided if needed.

Your Health

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Sunlight is essential to life, but too much at one time when one is not prepared for it, may be harmful.

The ultra voilet rays as absorbed by the skin are the ones responsible for sunburn and inasmuch as these are cold rays, it is possible for them to reach the skin without your being aware of it. This explains some of the sunburns which are received even on semi-cloudy days.

One of the characteristic features of this type of skin injury is that the redness does not appear until several hours later, therefore, you can not hope to judge whether you are sunburned or not, during the early part of the exposure period.

It is evident that people vary in their susceptibility to sunburn, and the ease with which the skin is injured depends upon its thinness, delicacy and light coloring. The blonde, having a delicate, fair skin, will burn far more readily than the brunette with a darker skin.

Most of the severe sunburns occur with those just going on vacation who allow their enthusiasm to get the better of their judgment, and stay out in the sun too long, the first day or two. The skin is unaccustomed to such exposure and has not yet had time to protect itself by tanning. Sunlight, like many other things, should be taken with moderation, especially at first.

The average sunburn is a first degree burn, the skin showing a fiery red, and appearing tense and swollen. The extreme burning sensation which appears makes the patient so uncomfortable that he is unable to sleep. In severe cases, serious symptoms such as swelling of the ankles may occur. After the first stage of the sunburn is passed, there is itching and then the skin peels off.

I can not urge you too strongly to regulate the time you expose the skin and thus avoid sunburn altogether. However, if you do become slightly burned, then it is a good plan to take care of the burn. One of the remedies often used is carron oil, which is a mixture of lime water and linseed oil. This is obtainable at many drug stores, or you may have some other remedy which you find efficient.

When you develop a really bad sunburn, the wisest advice I may offer is to se your doctor. These severe burns do best when given expert care; and for the sake of your own welfare, you should seek professional aid.

While sunburn may be humorous to your friends, I am sure you find it a very unpleasant experience. I therefore urge you, this summer to observe the necessary care in avoiding this uncomfortable skin injury.

Dr. Frank McCoy's great book, "The Fast Way to Health," gives you the mechanics of health in plain, easily understandable language.

A limited supply is on hand at The Bulletin. A copy will be mailed postpaid on receipt of $1.00. Just address The Bulletin.

If it is desired to communicate direct with Dr. McCoy, readers are requested to address communication direct to Dr. Frank McCoy, 689 South Ardmore Ave. Los Angeles, California, and replies will be mailed direct from that address.

Military Camp Is Invaded By Feminine Nurses

REGINA, July 17—For the first time in the history of Dundurn military camp it was invaded last week by feminine nurses in large numbers.

Some 60 nurses, drawn from all over the province, are now in the camp for a three-day intensive course of training in field hospital work. Practically every hospital has one or two nurses represented while others are drafted from graduate nurses.

Royal Canadian Navy Personnel Is Increased

OTTAWA, July 17—Personnel of the Royal Canadian Navy has been increased this year to take care of the new vessels which came into commission in the past six months, it was learned here Friday. Naval authorities also had regard for the reinforcement of the R.C.N. in the flotilla leader which will be released to Canada at the end of September.

A total of 244 ratings will have been added to the naval personnel by the end of July, and an additional 130 in the fall.

The department will shortly call for tenders for the construction of two ammunition lighters, one for each coast.

What To Do

The other evening I called with a friend at the home of an elderly minister. He was not there when we arrived, but came in soon afterward and shook hands with all of us. Should I have stood up? I have always understood that a girl never rises when she meets or is introduced to a man.

MISS J. B. K.

Answer—It is a general rule that a woman does not rise to meet a man, but a young woman should always be on her feet whenever she is introduced to a much older person of either sex. Because of the dignity of his office and the difference in your ages, it would have been much more gracious for you to have risen and shaken hands with the minister, particularly since you were visiting in his own home.

Race Track Is Show Place of New Fashions

HOLLYWOOD.—With four tracks handy and an almost continuous racing season, watching the bangtails is a steady sport here. Getting away from the studio, managed by ingenious alibis, is almost as much sport. Best luck is working for a director who is horse-crazy, too, and will quit work at noon on Saturday.

That's dress-up day at the races and stars turn out then in silk frocks and big hats, taking along their best furs to wear when the 4 o'clock chill settles in the shadows. There still are lots of short jackets, but short-sleeved boleros of mink, sable or skunk are seen oftener.

BEGIN TO SHOW FALL COLORS

Weekday clothes at Hollywood Park usually are of the sports type —plenty of sheer woolen suits, suit-dresses and coat-dresses. These have white accessories and, while straw hats are seasonal, white linen turbans are worn more than anything else. In felts and suedes, the high-crowned postilion hats already are very much "in," and advance fall colors are seen in many of the sports costumes.

An unusual color combination—robin's egg blue and cerise—was seen in an outfit blond Virginia Bruce wore one weekday. A full-length coat of the blue tweed, so soft it could be shirred at the waist, was matched with a gored skirt, topped with a vivid cerise sweater. A high-crowned hat of that shade had blue and yellow streamers.

The day that Marjorie Weaver felt a lucky streak coming on, she wore a pre-fall color-card costume —a Rodier silk tweed simulating wool for the dress, its dark green flecked with beet-root. A suede hat and wide belt in the dark red brought out the brighter color, and a boxy jacket of shadowy, blurry plaid used the same two shades.

Looking Paris-smart in print silks, Claudette Colbert wore accessories that included a huge bag of shirred white kid and an enormous white toyo straw hat. The short-sleeved frock, shirred across the bosom and at the front skirt fullness, was smooth white silk printed in big gray scrolls. A back strap of the fabric matched the hat to the costume.

CHINESE BROCADE PRINT

Another unusual print, of the Chinese brocade type, was used for the dress worn by Rosemary Lane the day she hung the winner's wreath of roses around No Dice's neck. Miss Lane said she figured that she was part of the show and ought to dress for it.

The dress fabric was black crepe with raised medallions of dusty rose, which were matched in the rose veiling on her black rough straw postilion hat. There was a black crepe jacket, banded in rose, but she carried another of black fox.

Dahlia red, another fall color forecast, was chosen by Lynn Bari for a short-sleeved, high-necked frock that she topped with a gray flannel coat. A gray straw sailor was banded in grosgrain of the same rich red.

Vows Pledged On Saturday Evening

The vestry of First Baptist church was the setting of a charming wedding, at eight o'clock on Saturday evening, when Dorothy Mildred Brettelle, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brettelle of Edmonton exchanged marriage vows with Wesley Cliff, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cliff, of Edmonton.

The bride, given away by her father, was becomingly gowned in a white brocaded silk dress, and wore a white flannel coat, and small white hat. For her corsage, she chose red roses.

Mr. Cliff was unattended.

Mrs. W. C. Brettelle, mother of the bride, was attired in a printed silk ensemble of dark tones with white accessories. She wore a delicate corsage of sweet peas, in pastel shades.

Mrs. W. B. Cliff, mother of the groom chose a navy blue flowered silk dress, and wore a veiled hat in a brick shade. Her corsage was of gladioli and delphinium blossoms.

Following the ceremony, performed by Rev. S. M. Hirtle and Rev. Dr. Clark, a reception was held in Eastwood Community Hall, tastefully arrayed with sweet williams, carnations and peonies.

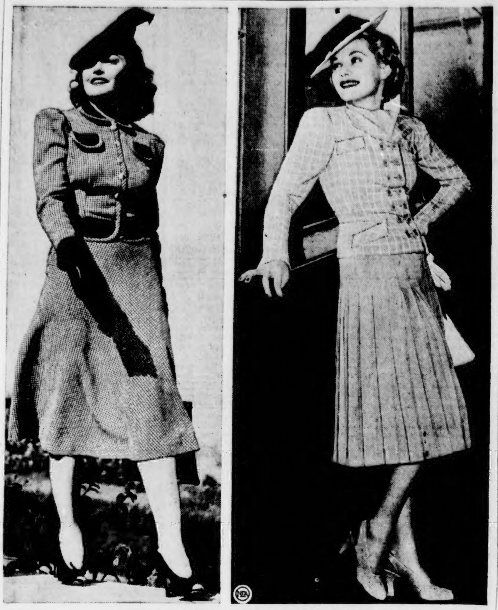
Right On The Track Of Sure Fashion Winners At Any Of Hollywood's Favorite Racing Centres



Edmonton race enthusiasts share interest in what other women at other races are wearing. Smart frocks and ensembles in evidence at the race track at the Edmonton Exhibition grounds on Monday follow, generally, the trends at other centres. Pictured here are favorites both at tracks and for casual sports wear. Chiffon wool is perfect for outdoor wear in Hollywood now. Nancy Kelly, left, strolls in a suit dress of black and white shepherd's check with tab pockets—in the back, too—of black velveteen. Topping it is a jaunty tam of black felt. Cool as a frosted drink is the lime green and white gabardine suit Gloria Dickson wears at right. Box-pleating well down the hips and a long double line of close-set buttons are slenderizing.

Why didn't somebody tell me this was a back-brush? I wasted a lot of time washin' down the walls and under the tub and brushin' my hair.

Marriage Is Performed On Saturday

Solemnized quietly at the hour of half-past seven o'clock on Saturday evening was a pretty mid-summer wedding ceremony at which Lois Elspeth Sutherland, eldest daughter of Mr. F. G. Sutherland and the late Mrs. Sutherland of Edmonton became the bride of Mr. Douglas George MacKay of Wildwood.

Rev. W. T. Young performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate friends and relatives. The wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Kenwood, Buena Vista.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a lovely figure in her gown of snowy white chiffon. The frock, fashioned with full skirt and tiny puffed sleeves, was complemented by her veil of tulle falling softly to her shoulders. Her accessories, slippers and gloves were in white and she carried a shower bouquet of summer flowers.

Miss Betty Kenwood was bridesmaid and frocked for the occasion in a smart summer gown of pink net over taffeta. A cluster of flowers in her hair and a bouquet of summer blossoms completed her ensemble.

Mr. Wilfred Sutherland, brother of the bride, was best man.

Later in the evening a reception was arranged in the home. Twenty guests were present, and peonies in summer tones graced the bride's table and the reception rooms. The bride's table was centered by the tiered cake. Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Young. Mr. and Mrs. MacKay left later for a wedding trip by motor to Jasper. To travel, the bride changed to a smart suit of navy blue, with accessories in navy and white. She wore a red fox collar.

GREAT BEND.—A happy occasion was marked one day recently when Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Simpson celebrated the golden anniversary of their wedding day while their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Simpson, of Ardley, observed the 22nd anniversary of their wedding. In celebration of the event dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Simpson to about 40 guests, including Mr. and Mrs. Merle Simpson and Mrs. Simpson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peddent of Nasalle, Washington. An open reception was arranged in the afternoon, and the honored guests were made the recipients of gifts, presented to them by Rev. Mr. Doughty on behalf of those present.

Improvement of Speech Is Job Of Visitor

Correction of speech defectiveness in children of poor people in the east end of London, in the Borough of Barking, is the sizeable task that engages the attention of Miss Mollie Crickmay, who is a visitor in Edmonton from her home in London. In the city until the latter part of the week, Miss Crickmay is en route to the Pacific coast where she will visit in Vancouver and on the Island for a time. Her visit in Edmonton is just a portion of her holiday in Canada and she expects to return to her London home in late September. She is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Parsons, 9636 99 street, during her Edmonton stay.

Chatting for just a moment with a reporter fom The Edmonton Bulletin on Monday morning, Miss Crickmay revealed some of the enthusiasm she carries into her work. That she is fond of it and that she feels an important part of the charitable work done for the poor of London was very evident from her tone and from her remarks concerning her work.

"There are about 50 children in the clinic at one time," she said during the little interview. The clinic, run by herself and one assistant, is supported by funds supplied by the borough council. While stammering cannot really be cured, it can be controlled and improved, she said. "The average child, with just an average speech defect, can be improved greatly—perhaps completely in six months' time. Others whose cases are more pronounced, of course take longer."

She has been at her work for ten years now, and included in her care are all types of speech defectiveness—retarded speech, stammering and stuttering. She is enthusiastic about her work and is sure that such training helps not only the physical aptitude of the child to cope more fittingly with life, but psychologically as well. Relieved of his defect, he can meet people more confidently, more surely and has thus more chance of improving his lot in life.

Olden Friends Welcomed At O.T. Cabin

There's always a smile and a welcome word for folk who call at the Old Timers' little log cabin on the fair grounds and Monday, opening day of the fair, was only the beginning of a week which will see olden time folk gathering from many parts of northern Alberta to renew friendships and exchange tales of "way back when."

Asked to welcome those who called on Monday were patrons of the Northern Alberta Old Timers and Pioneers association including Mrs. Frank Oliver, Mrs. Harrison Young, Mrs. Robert Belcher, Mrs. Angus McDonnell, Mrs. John A. McDougall, Mrs. Leslie Wood, Mrs. D. G. McQueen, Mrs. Philip Ottewell, Mr. C. Turgeon, Mr. Campbell Young, Mr. K. A. McLeod and Rev. Alex Stewart.

Miss Etta McLeod is convening tea arrangements assisted by Mrs. Clyde Smith. Assisting in passing tea to the guests were Mrs. Lily LeLacheur, Mrs. J. S. Fraser, Mrs. Robert Turnbull, Mrs. W. L. Sharp, Mrs. O. K. Murdock, Mrs. Gordon Clark.

Poem Writing Contest Is Announced

Writers in Edmonton and district will find interest in the announcement made today by the Canadian Authors' Association, Edmonton branch, which tells of the tenth annual Alberta poetry contest which they are sponsoring. Entries are now acceptable and will be taken up until October 15, 1939. Contest is open to all residents of Canada.

First and second prizes are offered for best poems in each of these four classes: sonnet, lyric, free verse, and short poem, any style. A special prize is being offered for the best Royal Visit poem.

The Alberta poetry year book will contain a selection of the best entries, and will include all the prize poems. Copies of the book will be sent to all entrants who submit two or more poems.

Secretary-treasurer of the branch, Mrs. I. A. Scouten, will receive all communications and entrance fee.

Following are the rules of the contest: 1—Poems must not exceed 42 lines in length. 2—Poems already published—anywhere—are not eligible. 3—Contestants may enter as many poems as they desire, in each class, but each entry must be accompanied by a fee of 25c. 4—All entries are to be marked with the class in which they are entered, and signed with a new pen-name, and correct name and address enclosed in a sealed envelope. 5—Manuscripts should be typewritten —if possible—and copy retained, as they will not be returned.

BAWLF.—Mr. and Mrs. Norma Brown, whose early July marriage was of interest to many friends, were honored recently when a number of friends arranged a party to compliment them. Mrs. Brown is the former Pearl Mathieson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Mathieson, who reside north of Bawlf, while Mr. Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown of Viewpoint ranch, Dried Meat Lake. Rev. M. S. Kerr officiated at their marriage, which took place in Camrose.

Leave For New Home

MR. AND MRS. ASGEIR BALDWIN

Edmonton Residents for 25 Years Leave for Campbell River Home

WHILE most folks think the time has come for "settling down" when one reaches eighty or thereabouts, Mr. and Mrs. Asgeir Baldwin have quite different ideas on the subject. Still certain that life is an adventure, with new places to see, they are commencing their third pioneering experience in a lifetime and left Edmonton on Monday morning for Campbell River, on Vancouver Island, where a group of Icelanders are starting a colony of their own people.

Now eighty-eight years of age and eleven years older than his wife, Mr. Baldwin can look back on sixty-six years of adventuring in Canada having come here from his home in Iceland in 1873. Mrs. Baldwin came out later and they were married in Canada fifty-three years ago. Mr. Baldwin's first pioneering experience was in Ontario where he started a post office called Hecla, after Mt. Hecla in Iceland.

Thirty-two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin came to Alberta and took up farming, but for the past twenty-five years have made their home in Edmonton.

Residence for a quarter of a century in Edmonton has won for them a host of friends, especially among their own people, the Icelanders. Now as they leave once more to start life in a new place, they carry with them the warmest thoughts of their many friends, who extend the best of luck to them in their new venture.

Tennis Dance Brings Meet To A Close

Bringing the tournament to a delightful conclusion, contestants who participated in the Edmonton and district amateur tennis meet last week and their friends entertained at dancing in the spacious Glenora clubhouse on Saturday evening. The dance, an informal summer flannel dance, was convened by the president of the Glenora Tennis club, Mr. Fred Robinson.

Among those present were Miss Betty Sparling, of Athabasca, Miss Margaret McDougal, Miss Alice Munro, Miss Ihabelle Johnston, Miss Jean Laidlaw, Miss M. Hart, Miss B. Jackson.

Miss Muriel Whitton, Miss Jessie Tapley, Miss Beth Purcell, Miss Ena May, Miss Esther Grese, Miss Billie Grese, Mrs. Kay Goddard, Miss Doreen Kavanaugh, Mrs. S. Whitton.

Mr. William Whitton, Mr. Bradley Davis, Mr. William Anderson, Mr. Fred Robinson, Mr. John Oliver, Mr. Thomas Bellamy, Mr. Ian Macdonald, Mr. Robert Chapman, Mr. Cliff Gibson, Mr. Allan MacTavish, Mr. Roger Williamson, Mr. Bill Newson.

Mr. George Johnston, Mr. Robert Porter, of Vancouver, Mr. George Dodge, Mr. S. Costigan, Mr. A. D. Watson, Mr. Lloyd MacDonnell, Mr. Andrew Purcell, Mr. Tudor Edmunds, Mr. Hugh Nash and Mr. William King.

Your and Our Representatives

TO KNOW your printing needs fully, to understand them thoroughly and to fill them according to your wishes and best interests—this is the chief function of a good printer.

For it takes more than the finest presses and papers—and more than the utmost in printing and craftsmanship and competence to give you the most for your printing dollar. It takes far more than that.

One of the things that is vitally necessary to a mutually satisfactory printing transaction is a competent "go between" between you and your printer—a man who can think from your point of view as well as ours. It takes such a man to examine and represent your best needs to us as faithfully as he represents our printing fitness to you.

The men who sell for Bulletin Printers Limited know full well that their unmatched knowledge of the mechanics of printing is important only when it serves to bring to our customer the maximum return for his printing dollar. They realize you buy printing for a definite purpose.

It is their job to see that that purpose is not overlooked and that you reach the goal you hope to achieve through printed salesmanship as quickly, efficiently and economically as is possible.

Be printing wise. Call in a Bulletin Printer's representative when you START THINKING about your next printing problem. You've got a friend and an ally in The Bulletin Printers Limited representative appointed to serve you. Use him—and what he has to offer.

Dorothy Dix Says:

"I am," says a correspondent, "no glamor girl, no bathing beauty, no wisecracker, no spellbinder. I am the life of no party. No man ever turns his head to look at me on the street. I am just the common, or ordinary, garden variety of wife. How can I keep my husband in love with me and glad he married me?"

Easy enough. By making him comfortable. That is always a wife's best bet, the one sure-fire way of retaining a husband's affections. For men cease to look at even living pictures after they possess them. They listen with only one ear to what their wives say to them. Glamor fades in the fierce light that beats upon the hearthstone. But ease and peace and restfulness are an abiding joy, and the woman who can give these to a man has a charm to conjure with that always works.

If you doubt this, look about you at the women of your acquaintance. Observe how many beauties virtually commute to Reno. Take note of the fascinators who seem to have more allure for other men than they have for their own husbands. Count the number of disgruntled men you know who are married to brilliant wives, but who spend their evenings at their clubs or any where away from home.

And reflect upon the fact that most of the domestic, devoted, middle-aged husbands in your circle are men who are married to women who have no beauty to speak of, no sparkling line of conversation, no talent except the gift for making their husbands comfortable.

And that is enough. For when a man comes home, weary and worn from his day's work, with his nerves fretted to fiddle strings, he doesn't crave beauty, nor romance, nor sentiment. He just wants to be made comfortable. So the best advice that any one can give the wife who wishes to keep her husband in love with her is just to make life easy for him.

See to it that his home is the coziest place to which he can go; that his chair is the kind he likes to sit in, even if it swears at your period furniture; that he has a good light to read by and the privilege of strewing cigarette ashes all over the place without being nagged for the mess he makes. After all, men are human. They are tired and their feet hurt at night, so there is small provocation for them to wander abroad if home is the pleasantest place they can find.

And feed the brute. Give him what he likes to eat, cooked the way he likes. He will never perceive your faults and weaknesses so long as your sauces are perfect. You never hear of a good cook being divorced by her husband. Furthermore, there is no surer way of keeping a husband nailed to his own fireside than by keeping him so full of good food he is too logy to go out and hunt for sirens.

But making a man physically comfortable isn't enough just of itself. You must make him mentally comfortable if you want to keep him thinking you are the greatest little woman in the world.

When the average wife loses her husband she always attributes it to the Other Woman having occult powers with which she could not compete or she lays it on her having lost her complexion or her figure. But, nine times out of ten, the real reason is that she made things so uncomfortable for her husband at home that she drove him away from her.

Maybe she nagged him until he couldn't call his soul his own. Maybe she had a temper that kept him terrorized. Maybe she whined and complained until the house was as gloomy as a tomb. Maybe she always belittled him until she made him feel like a worm of the dust.

What wonder that the wives who do these things kill their husband's love for them. What wonder that they send them to other women for comfort and to have their ego built up. And what wonder that the wives who are pleasant and easy to live with bind their husbands to them with hoops of steel.

What wonder that the wives who are good companions, who are affectionate and reasonable and helpful, who laugh at their husband's little peculiarities instead of making tragedies of them, are loved by their husbands long after they have lost their beauty and youth. No one can have a greater attraction for any of us than just to make us comfortable.

Summer's Brides Are Sweetly Old-Fashioned In Shimmering Gowns Of Delicate Fabrics Fashioned In Youthful And Charming Mode

NEW YORK.—Smart summer brides will march down flower-trimmed aisles in romantic gowns which billow and flutter about the ankles, emphasize their diminutive waistlines and otherwise contribute greatly toward a fragile, cherished look that will stir grooms to eloquence on the word "protect".

In a season of "little girl" fashions, streamlined, ultra-sophisticated wedding gowns are few and far between. Even head-dresses and veils have a misty, cloudy romantic look about them. Most of them feature hat type veiling and pleated silk chiffon or organdy veils to match the gowns. When used for veils, the traditional net and tulle are used lavishly—often in several thicknesses.

Popular fabrics for bridal dresses include every nebulous, diaphanous, misty silk sheer imaginable, as well as classic silk crepes and satins. There are soft, flowing silk chiffons which lend themselves to exquisite draping; wonderfully crisp silk net and organdies for bouffant gowns with demure necklines and perkily puffed sleeves; marquisettes which give wondrous effects.

It's chic to dress the attendants in gowns of the same material as the bride's own dress. A favored color scheme is for the bride to wear white and the maids to wear tints of some one color. They might choose the blues from forget-me-not into iris, greens from lettuce to lime, or the pinks from shell to cyclamen.

Grey is the color that brides' mothers are selecting to wear to the wedding. A grey gown with a corsage of orchids or pink rosebuds would be charming on a grey-haired mother, while grey with a touch of chartreuse or lime green, either in flowers or hatband or gloves, would be lovely for the tall, dark-haired mother.

Especially well liked for going-away dresses for the bride are tie silks, chiffons and rough-textured sheers in houndstooth, shepherd and gingham check patterned prints. The ideal going-away costume is, of course, uncrushable, comfortable and practical for summer wear later on. A black taffeta suit with flaring skirt and fitted jacket with white pique collar and cuffs is nice. A swagger coat of navy sheer over a navy and white polka dot dress is another intriguing travel costume. An attractive two-piece suit in a printed, rough silk in herringbone design has a scarlet taffeta blouse, and is shown with a wide-brimmed hat of shiny scarlet straw.

AT THE RECEPTION . . . the maid-of-honor, left, wears a blue silk chiffon dress with high puff sleeves and corselet waistline. The long streamer, from bosom to hem, is of cerise velvet, and the charming hat is of white leghorn. The bride's mother is smart in gray, with lace forming the long-sleeved bodice and skirt yoke, and gray silk marquisette the flaring skirt.

LEAVING THE CHURCH . . . the bride in a drifting white silk marquisette wedding gown over a slip of silk slipper satin. # Butter-Soaked Trout Perks Poor Appetite

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Catch a trout, then eat it. But in the meantime, do as they do in a camp in the Yosemite, California. Here's their special and very simple way to perfection.

TROUT RECIPE

Have melted butter hot in frying pan. Squeeze lemon juice into the melted butter. Dip trout lightly in flour, remembering that too much flour on a wet trout makes a paste. Season with salt and pepper. Turn in pan until golden brown. Serve with quartered lemons.

BARBECUE SUPPER FOR 20 PERSONS

Twenty 1-inch steaks. Paint steaks with oil and vinegar sauce. Broil on grid over an open oakwood or charcoal fire. Broil only over coals, not flames.

SALAD BOWL

Four heads lettuce, 4 heads romaine, 8 tomatoes peeled and cut into sections, 2 cans artichoke bottoms, French dressing.

Cut lettuce and romaine into small sections. Mix all ingredients and marinate in the French dressing.

CHILI BEANS

One No. 10 can red kidney beans, 3 pounds ground round steak, 3 bell peppers, 3 onions, two No. 2½ cans tomato puree, chili pepper, salt, butter.

Heat butter in frying pan. Add meat and brown. Add sliced peppers and onions. Brown, then add red kidney beans and puree of tomato. Mix well and season to taste with chili pepper and salt. Serve very hot.

Ripe olives, warmed potato chips, crisp bacon, French bread, ice cream, cake, coffee and cream are the other "eats" for this Yosemite barbecue supper.

Tomorrow's Menu

DINNER: Fruit cup, roast chicken, giblet gravy, potato souffle, new peas, watercress salad, lettuce, rhubarb pie, coffee, milk.

Raising A Family

"How did you manage to make your children so polite and kind?" Mrs. Jones asked Mrs. Smith.

"Do you think they are polite?" asked the pleased mother. "They worry me quite a lot, you know."

O R Barton

"I would give almost anything to know your secret," said Mrs. Jones, "so I could teach my two youngsters how to behave."

"That is the odd part of it," replied Mrs. Smith. "I have no secret at all."

Let us step into the Jones house tonight when John Jones comes home. John is tired and short-tempered. He says, "I hope there is a decent dinner for once."

Mrs. Jones answers acidly, "Then you had better go somewhere else to eat, my love. I do the best I can."

Mollified by food cooked to his taste, John is really human for a while. But soon his uncontrollable temper gets its work in again. "I wish to thunder you would get some decent-sized napkins. These gunswabs are ridiculous." He crumbles the tea napkin into a ball and hurls it into a corner.

Again his wife flares up. "The big ones are all in the wash. These are all I had tonight. Suppose you stop being so tight and give me enough money to lay in some supplies. I am not a magician."

FIGHTS THEIR DAILY PORTION

All through the meal and the evening this bickering goes on. The children come in for their share of it. Feeling that their only defense is to answer back, they invent new ways to do so.

With rudeness their daily portion, they feel a natural awkwardness over trying to be polite. So they carry their rough ways and lack of tact right with them wherever they go. Of what use is reminding and talking, when the very air they breathe lacks courtesy?

In the Smith family, father and mother make a point of good breeding. They ask for things with a "Please" and never forget their "Thank you's." They avoid open breaks about annoyances. They remember to speak pleasantly and normally. And they set such an example that their children would feel conspicuous acting any other way.

In short, one family is conditioned to good manners and fine breeding. The other is getting further and further away from them every day.

Today's Popular Design

Seven different activities of the hearty sailor lad are illustrated in this group of towels. They may be used for the kitchen, as glass towels or as a series of pictures. For a boy's room, these figures may be grouped on a bedspread. Pattern No. 589 contains transfer sheet of seven figures, illustration of stitches and complete instructions for stamping.

To order this pattern, send 15 cents in coin or stamps to Needlework Bureau, The Edmonton Bulletin, Edmonton, Alberta.

Minute Make-Ups

When you've completed your facial make-up as usual try this stunt as a final touch. Moisten a cotton wad with skin tonic and press it lightly all over your face. This "sets" your make-up and blots off excess powder. It helps give you the natural look that's so smart now.

According To Culbertson

The title of today's hand might well be "Defense as a Fine Art." When a defender knows enough apparently to jeopardize a sure trick in order to throw the declarer's timing out of gear, he can be said to have attained master ranking.

The bidding:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 club | 1 heart | 1 spade | 2 hearts |
| 2 no trump | Pass | 3 diamonds | Pass |
| 3 no trump | Pass | Pass | Double |
| 4 spades | Pass | Pass | Double |
| Pass | Pass | Pass | |

Obviously, North "bid his head off."

West opened his fourth highest heart. The ace won and the diamond queen was led through East, who covered. Declarer won and led a low spade to the king. West naturally ducked, but in doing so carefully used a false card, the nine spot, that was destined to have profound effect on the subsequent play. The spade king holding, another diamond was led and, after a long huddle, declarer played the jack, felling West's lone ten spot. The diamond nine now was led, declarer being perfectly willing to let West use one of his trumps as a ruffer, but West was far too wily. It was apparent that no club tricks could be expected by the defenders, and it was almost a certainty that declarer had no more hearts. Thus, if West were to ruff the third diamond lead, it was virtually certain that he never would take more than his three trump tricks which, of course, would mean a fulfilled contract. Rather than make matters easy for declarer, West discarded a heart. Now declarer realized that he would have to take the club finesse sooner or later, hence decided to take it on the spot. On a club lead toward dummy, the queen held and the ace was cashed. At this point declarer was "home." He led dummy's six of spades and, when East played the five spot, did not even bother to put in the ten, since he was practically certain that West had the ace and jack.

It was at this point that West made the play that forms the basis and crux of this article. With no perceptible hesitation, West won the trick, not with the spade eight, but with the jack. In doing this he realized fully that he was surrendering his A-J tenace over declarer's Q-10, but (as we will see) there was very good method in his madness. Having won with the jack, West returned another heart and declarer ruffed. Now (just as West had hoped) greed entered the picture! Declarer, down to the Q-10 of spades and two good diamonds, felt absolutely certain that the outstanding ace and eight of spades were divided between the defenders. The evidence was overwhelming. So, keyed up by the thought of making an overtrick on the doubled contract, declarer led the spade queen to drop the outstanding trumps together. Great was his horror when West won with the ace and East failed to follow suit! Now the beauty of West's defense was brought to light. A heart return forced declarer to use his last trump and he could not cash either of his diamonds. West still had the spade eight and a good club.

Of course, it is easy to say that declarer should not have fallen for West's ruse, that after having guessed the diamond suit so well and found the club king on side, he should have been delighted with the mere fulfillment of his contract. (Obviously, had declarer continued with diamonds instead of trying to drop the ace and eight of trumps together, ten tricks would have been a laydown.) But West, by presenting a persuasive, although false, picture, deserved full credit for his success. Incidentally, West's play had risked nothing. He could always count on three trump tricks, regardless of the fact that he had needlessly used his jack.

GOOD NEWS FOR HUSBANDS

Rug manufacturers advise against old-fashioned rug-beating. Regular use of your vacuum cleaner, properly adjusted to the height of the pile, removes dust and dirt just as thoroughly without straining or weakening the weave. Shaking small rugs is just as unnecessary as beating their bigger brothers, and almost as harmful. Here, too, the vacuum does a better job.

Consistency Important Beauty Routine "Must"

By ALICIA HART

Benay Venuta, lovely radio and stage star, agrees with experts that consistency is the most important "must" about any beauty routine.

"You can't expect any cream or any lotion to do much for your complexion unless you use it regularly, day in and day out, and always exactly according to directions. An occasional brushing won't keep your hair shiny, scalp free from dry cuticle. In order to achieve excellent results, you must use your hairbrush every single night."

It is also true that no woman possibly can expect a diet to be really effective if she stays on it for a week, then completely forgets about it for a day or two.

Why bother to forego desserts, gravies, starches and a number of other things you really like if, within a week, you are going to eat enormous quantities of fattening foods during an entire day or two?

Of course, the real reason that the average girl doesn't stick to a diet is because the diet is too rigid in the first place. Rare is the person who can stay on a very strict one for more than four days. Even if she could, she shouldn't. Exotic, so-called fad diets often are harmful.

NEAT DIET TRICK

However, there are many who have lost weight, easily and harmlessly, simply by eating smaller portions of everything except green salad, never taking second helpings, never eating between meals and making it a point never to eat a small serving of dessert without first finishing a large salad. The trick here lies in the fact that after eating a meat course, then a huge salad, one seldom wants dessert anyway.

Former Stomach Victim Tells of Relief Given Him by Mosby's Tonic

Mr. Kent Suffered with Gaseous Indigestion 2 Years — Had Severe Pains and Couldn't Sleep —Now He Says: "Mosby's Tonic Has Relieved My Suffering. I Feel Years Younger."

People in all parts of Alberta are now taking — and praising! — this "New Mixture of Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents," known as MOSBY'S TONIC, which is now being introduced to crowds daily in this city by a Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as The MOSBY TONIC Man, at The Army and Navy Dept. Store. And at the same time, many of the Best Known Residents of This Western Section are coming forward daily with Grateful Statements, publicly endorsing Mosby's Tonic in the newspapers. Druggists say they never before seen any medicine receive so many voluntary endorsements. Among the many well-known people who praise Mosby's Tonic none is more enthusiastic about this New Medicine than Mr. S. E. Kent, of 127 13th Ave., N.E., Calgary, Alta. What he has to say about Mosby's Tonic is Truly Worth Reading. His statement follows:

MR. S. E. KENT, of 127 13th Ave., N.E., Calgary, Alta., whose sincere statement telling of Relief MOSBY'S TONIC gave him appears below. "I Feel Years Younger Since I Took This Medicine," He Says.

Stomach Gas and Pains Kept Him Awake Nights

"I certainly had a bad case of stomach gas," said Mr. Kent. "This condition kept getting worse during the past two years, until finally I couldn't eat a meal without suffering. My food seemed to turn sour almost as soon as it reached my stomach, and no matter how little I ate, it just felt like a heavy weight, or a solid lump, inside of my stomach. The pains from gas bloating would keep up long after I went to bed at nights and I couldn't sleep for hours at a time. So I would always get up in the mornings feeling like I had not slept at all. I was very weak and worn out as a result of all of this suffering.

Sleeps Fine Now; Feels Years Younger

"During the years I suffered I tried at least a dozen different medicines, but got very little benefit from any of them. I just thought I never was going to find anything that would really help me, and then finally I heard about Mosby's Tonic and started taking it. And now I want to say that it is the Finest Medicine I Ever Took. It cleared that gas and bloating from my stomach and now I can eat three full meals a day without that feeling like a lump inside of me. My food never turns sour any more and I can go to bed and sleep properly at nights without those gas pains like I used to have. I am feeling years younger as a result of the fine cleansing this medicine has given my system. I gladly give you my statement and endorse Mosby's Tonic, for I think others who suffer like I did should hear of it."

20 Ingredients in This New, Scientific Formula

MOSBY'S TONIC contains 20 Ingredients, including 15 Liquid Extracts from different Roots and Herbs. It acts on bowels, stomach, liver, kidneys. Makes suffering people feel different all over. The price of this New Compound is reasonable, due to the immense volume in which it sells. So don't hesitate. Get Mosby's Tonic —TODAY!

A Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as The MOSBY TONIC Man, is now at The ARMY AND NAVY DEPT. STORE, Edmonton, daily meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this New Compound.

British Experts Work On Theory Tuberculosis, Cancer Are Associated

By GUY RHOADES

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 17.—Discovery that 20 per cent of all deaths in all countries of persons over 25 years of age are attributable to tuberculosis and cancer combined has set British research workers on a trail they believe will show an intimate connection between the two diseases.

Existence of the theory of association between cancer and tuberculosis was mentioned by the Duke of Kent at a meeting of the Papworth village settlement supporters. The Duke called attention to the work of Dr. Barron Cruikshank, a Papworth research expert, who established the mathematical relation between the diseases.

PERCENTAGE SAME

Later Sir Pendrill Varrier-Jones, medical director of Papworth, said the settlement research men had worked on the problem for three years. They discovered the two diseases had accounted for 20 per cent of recorded deaths among those over 25 during the last 80 years and that while tuberculosis deaths decreased those from cancer increased and the combined percentage remained the same.

Sir Pendrill cautioned that Papworth workers did not believe they were on the threshold of discovering a cure for cancer or that they were about to determine the actual cause of the disease.

He declared, however, that his workers had discovered a new approach which might lead into new fields promising great success of future work and that he was convinced the mathematical discovery placed them on new ground.

BUYERS IDLE AT WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, July 17.—Forecasts of scattered showers in sections of western Canada's spring grain belt plus weakness on outside markets, kept buyers idle on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today and forced wheat futures prices nearly a cent lower. Final quotations were ¾-⅞ cent down, July at 53¼, October 54-54⅞, November 55⅝ and December 55⅞.

Broomhall

Usually at this time of the year there is considerabe conjecture as to the probable takings by importers during the crop year about to start. During recent years it has been increasingly difficult to make early predictions with with any reasonable assurance of accuracy, due to the fact that so many governments entirely control trade. However, our Liverpool office, in commenting on possible new season requirements, recently stated that "although threshing results may reverse an early judgment, we are disposed to think that European requirements of overseas wheat in 1939-40, both for mill and fodder purposes, will be maintained particularly as prices are so low." It is not thought likely that there will be further large accumulations for security stocks as these have already reached a level satisfying to most of the governments concerned.

Drive For Funds To Complete Road Via Monkman Pass

VANCOUVER, July 17.—Joining hands with the Alberta end of the organization, the British Columbia branch of the Monkman Pass Highway Association has announced the start of a drive to raise funds to complete the unfinished 82 miles of highway through the pass which will connect Vancouver and the Peace River country.

Capt. T. P. O'Kelly, president of the branch, announced the start of the drive today. "Our objective is to raise enough money to furnish a road through the pass and connect the Peace River country up with tide water at Vancouver," he said.

City Resident Invents Gadget For Lawn Mowers

One of the latest recruits to the ranks of Edmonton inventive geniuses is Martinus Pederson Scott, middle-aged lawn mower sharpener of 9626 98 avenue, who has been issued a patent for a new automatic lawn mower sharpener. Mr. Scott worked on the devise for more than two years before perfecting it. He has been sharpening lawn mowers, saws, knives and other articles in Edmonton for several years.

Mr. Scott has been using the machine to sharpen the large power mowers used on Edmonton golf courses and he has received letters from the Mayfair, Highlands and Prince Rupert golf clubs congratulating him on his new machine.

PREMIER LEAVES FOR PEACE RIVER SPEAKING TRIP

Premier William Aberhart left Monday morning for the Peace River territory where he will remain during this week, speaking at several points. He was accompanied by Hon. Ernest C. Manning, minister of trade and industry, and Orvis Kennedy, M.P. for East Edmonton.

If they arrive at McLennan in time, the premier will open his meetings at that point Monday evening. If not, then he will speak there at 10 a.m. Tuesday, going on to Falher to speak at 2:00 p.m., and continuing to Peace River where he will speak at 8:00 p.m.

Other meetings scheduled are: Wednesday, Grimshaw, 10 a.m.; Fairview, 2 p.m., and Roycroft, 8:00 p.m.; Thursday, Beaverlodge, 2 p.m., and Grande Prairie, 8 p.m.; Friday, High Prairie, 2 p.m.

Two Children Killed As Train Crashes Auto

PORTLAND, Ore., July 17.—Two children were killed and another child and a woman seriously injured Sunday when a Southern Pacific freight train struck their automobile near Tualatin.

All were from Multnomah, Portland suburb.

The dead were Lois Leonard, 9, and Henry Wallace Eaton, 14. Clifford Leonard, 15, brother of the dead girl, and their mother, Mrs. Cora Leonard, were seriously hurt.

Rescue Dash of Cutter Saves 5 Out of 8 Lives

NEW YORK, July 17.—Completing a 270-mile rescue dash in less than 13 hours, the coast guard cutter George W. Campbell arrived today with five survivors of the sunken coast guard hydroplane V-164 which crashed at sea Saturday with the loss of three lives.

The plane sank a few minutes after picking up a sick sailor from the ketch Atlantis, floating laboratory of the Oceanographic Institute of Woods Hole, Mass.

Many Leave Here For Gathering On Moral Rearmament

Some 35 persons left Edmonton Saturday and Sunday for Hollywood, California, to attend the World Assembly for Moral Rearmament. Besides Edmontonians, there are people attending from Peace River, Wetaskiwin, Leduc and other points.

They will attend a gathering in Hollywood Bowl on Wednesday and then will be at a convention on Monterey peninsula from July 21 to 31.

Bicycle Bandits

WINDSOR, Ont., July 17.—Three young bicycle-riding bandits held up Thomas Barton, 13, and Bill Pare, 13, by strong-arm methods during the week-end and stole the seat from Barton's bicycle. The three musclemen, all described as about 15 years old, rode off nonchantly after the robbery.

Jolas Impressed By Variety of Languages Spoken Here

A two weeks' course in piano technique commenced Monday afternoon at St. Stephen's College under the direction of Jacques Jolas.

Mr. Jolas, director of the department of musical extension, Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa, is associated with the Juilliard Foundation of New York, and has assisted in the establishment of the Harrisburg Symphony Orchestra and of the School of Music in Louisville, Kentucky.

GOING TO BANFF

At the close of the course here, Mr. Jolas will go to Banff, where he will again join the staff of the Banff School of Fine Arts, teaching for a period of four weeks.

Referring to the course he gave last year in Banff, Mr. Jolas spoke of the great interest and comprehension of the students, who numbered approximately twenty.

Mr. Jolas spoke enthusiastically of the variety of languages used in Edmonton. "Walking through Victoria Park and along your Jasper Avenue, I have heard English, spoken with American, Canadian and English accents, French, Russian, German and Italian. It creates a pleasing and composite sound for the ear."

Speaking of his special interest in Canadian literature and languages, Mr. Jolas explained his enthusiasm, stating that his brother, Eugene Jolas, of Paris, is the editor of the magazine "Transition," which publishes in English, French, Russian, German and other languages and, prior to its appearing in book form as "Finnegan's Wake," Mr. Jolas published in his magazine the most recent work of James Joyce, under the title "Work in Progress."

Mr. Jolas will give a recital Thursday evening at St. Stephen's College, University of Alberta, under the auspices of the department of extension.

CYCLIST HURT SECOND TIME STREET CRASH

William Foster Suffers Concussion; Two Others Are Injured

Just six weeks after a previous accident and injury which confined him to hospital for a month, William Foster, 19, of 10714 126 street, was badly hurt when his motorcycle crashed into a car on Jasper at 111 street at 7:45 p.m. Saturday. Two others were slightly injured.

Foster is in the General hospital, suffering concussion of the brain, a cut on the forehead, scraped nose and a badly bruised leg. His condition is not critical, however, and he is expected to recover fully. He did not strike the back of his head where his previous fracture was.

HURT AT RACES

Foster was confined to hospital for a month after crashing into the fence at the exhibition grounds race track June 1, when he suffered a skull fracture. Last Saturday was the first day he had ridden his motorcycle since the previous accident.

Stewart Smith, 10313 124 street, who was riding on the pillion seat of the motorcycle, also is in hospital with minor injuries. His head is badly scratched and one hand hurt.

Stanley Zawaski, passenger in the model T Ford car which figured in the collision, received a cut on the head from a piece of glass and is in hospital. Both the latter two are expected to be discharged Monday.

CAR HIT

Saturday evening Foster was riding his motorcycle east on Jasper avenue when the car, coming west, turned south on 111 street. It crossed in front of the motorcycle, which struck it in the middle of the right hand side.

Driver of the car, Carl Zawaski, farmer of Chipman district, told police that when he turned to cross the south traffic lane of Jasper avenue, he "thought he had plenty of time."

Another report of the accident said that the car slowed down slightly while crossing, which might have made Foster miscalculate and strike it when he believed he was going to pass behind it.

FIVE IN CAR

There were five persons in the car, Carl Zawaski, Stanley Zawaski, his brother, and Stanley's wife, Doreen Zawaski, daughter of Stanley Zawaski, and another girl.

Foster was pinned under the motorcycle on the pavement but Smith was thrown clear.

Through The Mill

He looked the picture of health and honesty standing there in the prisoner's dock in police court Monday. And he pleaded guilty to the charge, which stated that he had "unlawfully offered for sale a remedy represented by label to the general public as a treatment for high blood pressure."And possibly it was. But the law says it is illegal to offer any remedy as a specific cure for certain diseases or disabilities, and high blood pressure is one of them. The magistrate imposed a fne of $25 and costs with $8.25 costs.

• • •

Two young men walked into the prisoner's dock to answer what is probably regarded throughout the world, in all ages, as the most despicable of all crimes. They are charged with having lived off the avails of prostitution. Adjournments until July 19 to permit the crown to prepare its case and have the two prisoners examined by medical officers were ordered.

• • •

ALBERTA MOTOR ASSOCIATION ROAD REPORTS

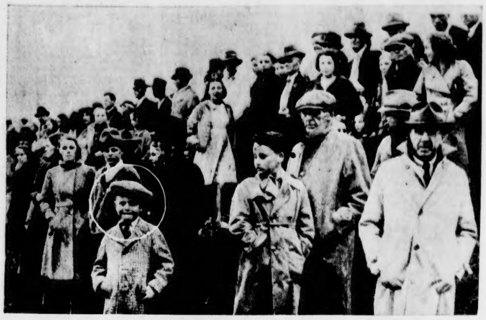
First Lucky Circle Picture For Fair Week



—By Bulletin Staff Cameraman

With Edmonton's annual Exhibition underway once again, The Bulletin's Staff Cameraman is going to be a busy man this week. And he's out to get some of those "Lucky Circle" shots that are proving so popular—particularly to those whose pictures appear in the white circle and who get silver dollars for such "ringers." The picture above was snapped at the Exhibition grounds as a crowd of citizens watched preparations for the big summer event. In the foreground is a young gentleman with a ring around his head. If he'll drop into The Bulletin's editorial offices and identify himself he'll get a silver dollar for his trouble. There'll be lots of other lucky circle pictures appearing in The Bulletin during fair week, so watch for them. Prize-winners must report for their prize money within 10 days after their pictures have appeared and between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. (8 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Saturday) in order to be eligible for the silver dollar prizes.

Prime Minister Chamberlain's statement in the House of Commons that England is ready to honor her pledges to Poland to the extent of sending armed forces to fight for her, has drawn tight the diplomatic line-up for the prolonged diplomatic skirmishing now going on in Europe.

THE QUESTION:

"What do you think of the English committments to Poland?"

THE ANSWERS:

NORA FLEMING, teacher: I am not sure you state the issue correctly when you say England is pledged to fight for Poland. She is pledged to fight for the public law of Europe, and against continued aggression. Poland has simply become a test case. In September, in the same way, we would not have been fighting for Czecho-Slovakia alone, but also to save Europe from falling under a military despotism.

• • •

HUGH McLEAN, C.C.F. supporter: I am glad that Prime Minister Chamberlain at long last has spoken out so firmly against aggression and shown the whole world that Britain is ready to stand by her pledges. But if Britain's course in foreign policy had been more resolute in recent years it would have been possible, I feel, to have called a halt to aggression without being so deeply committed now.

• • •

L. E. DRUMMOND, secretary-manager of Chamber of Mines: The aroused interest of British public opinion in Poland's integrity and independence is the surest sign that England regards the present dispute as no sham crisis. Perhaps Mr. Chamberlain, by speaking firmly now, will avert the need of firm action. It is to be devoutly hoped so.

• • •

LORNE MACKINTOSH, summer school student: The English committment has been made after full consideration of what it means, and I am confident Mr. Chamberlain meant what he said when he declared England's willingness to honor it.

STORM CAUSES POWER TROUBLE OVER WEEKEND

Wind, rain and lightning were responsible for short interruptions in electric light service to some parts of the city Sunday afternoon.

Rain-soaked branches of trees thrashed against electric light wires in the West End of the city, short-circuiting the power and cutting off the power in homes from 103 to 125 streets, mostly south of Jasper avenue, for an hour and 40 minutes.

One section of the South Side was cut off when lightning hit a transformer and four poles were blown down, causing short-circuiting of the wires on Walter Flats and on the South Side. Crews of trouble-shooters soon restored service.

Personnel of the special committee of the Chamber of Commerce which will seek to find out what obstacles bar the way to having a housing program get under way in this city, will be named this week, John Blue, secretary-manager, said Monday.

Banquet in honor of J. Madill, who retired recently as district passenger agent for the C. N. R. here, will be attended by fifty officials of the company Tuesday night at the Macdonald hotel. W. C. Owens, general superintendent of the C. N. R. for this province, will be toastmaster.

A large number of visitors from Saskatoon were in the city Monday to attend the sixty-first Edmonton Exhibition, including Eric Knowles, managing editor of the Saskatoon Star-Phenix and a director of the Saskatoon fair, and Jack Hettle, chairman of the racing committee of the Saskatoon fair. Both will be guests of Percy W. Abbott, K. C., managing director of the Edmonton Exhibition, and directors of the fair. Others from Saskatoon are Mayor Carl Niderost, A. D. Munro, president of the Saskatoon exhibition; Dr. L. A. Kirk, dean of agriculture, University of Saskatchewan; and W. I. Munro, general superintendent of the C. N. R.

Funeral services for Ruby Diane Faulder, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fergus Faulder of 9801 77 avenue, who died Friday from burns received while playing with a bonfire Thursday, were held Monday afternoon from Hainstock and Son's chapel. Rev. A. D. Richard officiated, with interment following in the Mount Pleasant cemetery.

A special N. A. R. train reached Edmonton at midnight Sunday, coming from Waterways. The train carried a number of residents and visitors from the Arctic who voyaged by water on the S.S. Athabaska River to Waterways, arriving too late to catch the regular train that reached Edmonton Saturday noon. Some of the passengers who had not been outside for the past ten years, were radio operators, Hudson's Bay Company traders, nurses, and a R.C.M.P. officer.

Street Railway Service Change For Fair Parade

Commencing at 10 a.m. Tuesday, all street car service on Jasper avenue, between 95 street and 109 street, also on 101 street from Jasper to 107 avenue, will be discontinued until after the Exhibition parade has cleared these sections. Normal service will be resumed as soon as possible after the parade.

Special cars will be in operation on all routes from 7 a.m. to 10 a.m. and passengers intending to view the Exhibition parade are urged to use the early cars in order to avoid over-crowding and inconvenience.

Ottawa Girl Makes Typing Team in Contest: Bulletin to Send Edmonton Stenographer East

By winning the first of 24 elimination contests in as many Canadian and United States cities, Miss Mary Ann Burns, of 312 Nelson street, Ottawa, becomes the first of the Canadian national typing team which is to compete against a similar 12-member United States aggregation in the Canadian National Exhibition's 16-day non-stop International Typewriting Marathon here from August 25th to September 9th.

Elwood A. Hughes, Exhibition general manager, was advised today that final scoring of the papers revealed that Miss Burns had outsped scores of Ottawa typists to win the double distinction of representing the Dominion capital on the Canadian team, and of being the first of the 24 Marathoners to be officially chosen.

15-MINUTE TEST

W. E. Gowling, who conducted the elimination for the Exhibition at his Ottawa business school, reported that Miss Burns had written 1,336 words in the 15-minute test which was the basis of elimination. Minus a one-word penalty for each of her 22 errors, this gave her 1,314 net words or a per-minute average of 87.6. Second to her was Peter Shannon of Ottawa, with 77.6 words per minute.

Mr. Hughes stated that Miss Burns speed was considerably higher than the expected average of the Canadian team and that her performance gave other Elimination contest winners something to shoot at. Canadian eliminations, open to any typist who has never won a typing title in public competiton, are also to be held at Calgary, Edmonton, Halifax, Hamilton, London, Montreal, Regina, St. John, Toronto, Vancouver and Winnipeg.

In the marathon these winners will race an American team of typists similarly chosen in Birmingham, Ala., Cleveland, O., Columbus, O., Denver, Colo., Evansville, Ind., Ft. Worth, Tex., Houston, Tex., Knoxille, Tenn., Memphis, Tenn., San Diego, Calif., San Francisco, Calif., and Washington, D.C.

FREE TRIP

In Edmonton The Bulletin has been asked to sponsor sending of this city's fastest typist to Toronto for a two weeks' stay at the Canadian National Exhibition with railroad fare, berths, meals, all hotel expenses and amusements in Toronto, and $2.50 a day allowance paid by the exhibition. The successful contestant has a chance also to win several prizes at Toronto and to receive an all-expenses paid trip to the World's Fair at New York.

Edmonton elimination tests are being held at Alberta College under the general supervision of Principal Dr. F. S. McCall, and the personal supervision of Miss Beatrice Gremm.

It's a great chance to have a real holiday at no expense whatever. All you have to do is to fill in the coupon on this page and await instructions. Remember, some typist, young man or young woman, MUST go from Edmonton. YOU may be the lucky one. Fill in that entry coupon now.

MIDWAY TENTS BREAK RECORD PREPARATIONS

Special Railway Trainloads Set Up At Fair Grounds

Early arrival of two special railway trainloads of equipment and what showmen called record breaking "set up," resulted in an "all ready!" signal by executives of Royal American Shows early Monday, hours ahead of the official opening scheduled for noon.

Milling thousands of curious spectators watched unloading of the midway's 62 double length railway carloads of equipment and construction of the magic city of portable amusement equipment. Officials said the show has a personnel this year of 1,300 performers, artists and workmen and 280 wagon-loads of equipment.

TENT THEATRES

There are 20 tent theatre attractions and 24 portable ride devices which occupy virtually all available space on the midway grounds. An elaborate "arch" forms a main entrance and at the extreme rear are four giant Ferris wheels and four new Roll-o-Planes, an invention of the current season.

Spectators found unusual interest in construction of the midway's electric lighting equipment, which comprise eight diesel-electric generating plants producing more than 1,000,000 watts of current. Each of the "electric wagons" is surmounted by an 80-foot tower with banks of overhead lights.

ELABORATE ATTRACTION

The most elaborate attraction, showmen declared, is Lottie Mayer's Disappearing Water Ballet in "Watercade" which, showmen said, is an entirely new type of musical revue. The Ballet has been in England, France and Germany for the last two years, returning in time to join Royal American Shows for its participation in the western Canadian "class A" fairs. Other new attractions include "Expose," a dramatic stage show and "Beautiful Hawaii," featuring Joe Lopez, Victor recording artist of the Atlantic City Steel Pier.

Among the new ride devices is the Miniature Railway, making its first appearance in Canada, and which has been taxed beyond its capacity ever since it arrived in the Dominion.

Calgary Breaks Midway Records

Midway records for all times were shattered at the Calgary Stampede last week by Royal American Shows, reported Carl J. Sedlmayr, general manager, on his arrival in Edmonton Sunday evening. The increase, he said, was eight per cent ahead of the previous all-time high established in 1937.

STORM CAUSES SMALL DAMAGE FARMERS SAY

City Gardens Suffer, But Crops Escape Harm From Hail

Driven in from the northwest by a 30-mile-an-hour wind, hail swept over Edmonton and district Sunday afternoon and while the storm was intense while it lasted and did considerable damage to city gardens, farmers in the district reported that crop damage was slight.

Pelting down for a period of half an hour, from 2:15 to 2:45 p.m., the hail stones skipped over farms lying within a radius of nine to 18 miles of the city, a Monday morning check with farmers in the district revealed. A few stones fell south of the city but only slight crop damage was reported.

A few drops of rain, but no hail, fell over the Clover Bar district, nine miles east of the city.

No hail and very little rain was reported from the Ardrossan district, 18 miles from Edmonton.

Force of the driving wind ripped down small signs and left exhibition shields on downtown light standards hanging in awry fashion. Awnings on some business establishments were hanging in tattered shreds following the blast.

Midway employees and workmen busy on concession and exhibit stands at the fair grounds were hampered in their work. Despite the storm thousands of citizens flocked to the grounds for a preview of the big fair.

THREE INCHES

Rain falling over the near north sections of the province for periods of 24 to 36 hours deposited upwards from one to three inches of moisture over croplands. Heaviest fall was reported from Grande Prairie, where over three inches was said to have fallen.

Rain was still pouring down at

Bright Hand-Woven Rug You Can Easily Make

Weave on Home-made Loom

And you can weave it yourself on a home-made loom, using odd bits of cloth.

To make the loom, nail together a simple oblong frame of four wooden slats and tack strips of burlap to the shorter sides. Now thread heavy postal twine through the burlap strips, forming a "warp".

For the weaving, use long strips of fabric 3 or 4 inches wide, fold in raw edges. Double first strip and, using both ends, weave a braid-like pattern as in diagram. One end goes under warp as the other goes over. Quickly you "braid" away—and your rug when finished is as pretty on one side as the other.

Just as easily you weave other attractive things for home, personal use. Make cheery place mats of cotton bias binding tape, using a breadboard for a "loom." Weave a gay belt and purse on home-made cardboard "looms."

Our 32-page booklet gives complete directions and diagrams for weaving these and many other lovely things—such as lamp shades, afghans, pillow tops, handkerchief cases, scarves, doilies.

HITLER OMITS ANY REFERENCE TO FREE CITY

Fuehrer Makes 15-Minute Speech At National Art Exhibition

MUNICH, July 17.—Chancellor Hitler opened the German National art exhibition Sunday with a 15-minute address notable to a world watching the tense Danzig situation because it contained no mention of the Free City or any other political question.

The Fuehrer was content to review German art briefly and to describe Nazi contributions to it which, he said, show "the National Socialist star of art is shining in the heavens."

A political atmosphere pervaded the occasion with almost all high Nazi officials present except Field Marshal Herman Goering, who is on a yacht trip through German canals.

STILL TO FOREFRONT

The question of Danzig, which Hitler has promised to return to Germany, was still to the forefront, partly because of the continued presence here of the Danzig Nazi leader, Albert Forster, and the statement by a well-informed source that "the German Reich holds that the time has come to free German-Polish relations from this problem."

In his address Hitler told Germany's artists that in times of swift revolutionary developments those who form a political and worldly outlook of people "must attempt when necessary to influence artistic forces even at the risk of serious infringement of them in the sense of a common attitude toward the world."

NEW BUILDING

"Only in that way," he said, "can surviving art be prevented from separating itself from the actual life of the people and therefore isolate itself more and more."

In closing, Hitler announced the laying of the cornerstone of a new exhibition building which he said would be large enough to display all forms of German art.

The authoritative Berlin-Rome-Tokyo, published under the patronage of the foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, and edited by Dr. Paul Schmidt of the foreign office, underscored Germany's claim on Danzig.

"For us and our friends," the publication said, "Danzig is a de facto German city and it will one day be a de jure German city. Speeches, articles and diplomatic missions do not change that at all."

The British Empire, Berlin-Rome-Tokyo said, is a "fiction."

MODEL PLANE CONTEST WILL BE FEATURED

Four contests for makers of model aircraft, both for exhibition and flying types, will be held at the exhibition next week under auspices of the Model Aircraft league of Edmonton and the Edmonton Exhibition association.

Contestants will compete for the grand championship, and for the McConachie trophy, for senior championship. The latter was donated by Grant McConachie, president of Yukon Southern Air Transport.

There will be two indoor events. An elimination contest will be held July 22 at a place to be announced later, according to W. W. Ireland, secretary-treasurer of the model league.

TWO EVENTS

The series will include two outdoor events. The first will be for rubber-powered models and will be held south of Kingsway near the entrance to the city airport on July 23. The second for gasoline-driven models, will be held July 29 at the airport.

Times for all contests will be from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Forty contestants with 92 models have registered for the competitions and keen rivalry is expected to produce some new city and provincial, and possibly Canadian records as the little models soar aloft.

The display of all models in both scale, semi-scale and flying sections at the agricultural building in the exhibition grounds will be an innovation this year and is expected to draw a large number of patrons.

Douglas Ireland and Arnold Hicks, leading model builders and fliers in the city, will be at the display throughout exhibition week to explain matters of construction, flying and league organization.

SAMPLES FROM NORTH MINING FIELDS SHOWN

Opportunity for a close study of the mineral resources of Alberta and the North West Territories will be provided by a display of more than 500 minerals from these fields, to be shown at the exhibition this week in the agricultural building.

Sponsored by the Alberta and Northwest chamber of mines, in conjunction with the exhibition association, the display will be the first representing all major mining properties north of Edmonton, according to L. E. Drummond, secretary of the chamber.

Some of the samples are being sent from many of the most spectacular "finds" in the north, he declared.

Important changes in the personnel of the C.N.R express department, western region, were announced Saturday by G. E Bellerose, Montreal, general manager for the company. Changes were effective Saturday. Mr. Cunningham, general superintendent, western region, retires under pension rules. He has been a resident of Winnipeg for more than 30 years. He will be succeeded by B. A. Latta, formerly superintendent of the Pacific division at Edmonton. Mr. Latta has been located in Edmonton since 1922, and will be succeeded in this city by W C. Cranston, formerly superintendent at Winnipeg.

GHOST DETOUR —By OREN ARNOLD

CAST OF CHARACTERS

DICK BANCROFT and FRANKLIN LARRAWAY, they also found an interest in Goldcrest.

Yesterday: Mrs. Hogan rescues the four from the mine cavein, then goes back to inspect the place. She returns later with ore samples. She is excited and the party is inclined to think she is perhaps a bit "queer."

CHAPTER VI

A GREAT deal of work can be done in six days' time, and Roselee, Christine, Dick and Franklin proved it. Mrs. Hogan too, did her share, or more.

It was Mrs. Hogan who cleaned out the Grand Central Tonsorial Parlors (a sign down the street still proclaimed the name, even though partly weathered away) and moved the two boys into fairly comfortable living quarters there. She set the girls up in comparative splendor in the Ace High Hotel, in a room near to her own, making Roselee go home first for a real mattress, a mirror, and certain other refinements of civilization.

The six days also were time enough for Franklin to drive to Los Angeles and make some valuable arrangements with travel agencies there. He went to the bus lines, the automobile clubs, and the private tour organizations, even to a railroad. All agreed that Roselee's ghost detour was a capital idea. Most of these agencies began recommending the ghost town without fee, simply to stimulate travel. Chambers of Commerce, hotels, gasoline companies, tourists camps and pleasure resorts all the way from Boulder Dam westward were glad to extend co-operation.

First of the tourists had begun visiting Goldcrest even before Franklin got back. Two bus loads of school teachers were the largest party the first week. Heading on a circle tour of western national parks, they had spent two hours visiting the ghost town. The net take for Roselee's treasury that day was $64. She was as excited about it as if it had been $6,400.

"We need a bigger sign there at the turnoff, by the highway, Dick," she told her man-Friday. "Since Franklin is back, could he order one erected, maybe?"

"Nothing doing," countered Franklin. "Ordering things costs money. I can build it myself. We can tear down a barn or two for all the scrap lumber we need. You've already bought paint. What we need most, it seems to me, is a light truck, a pick-up. We'll have to haul in supplies constantly and it'll come in handy."

Thus the first $64, plus some more taken in that week, went for a down payment on a second-hand truck, bought at Flagstaff. Franklin himself purchased it for Roselee, and immediately used it to haul lumber to the highway. When Dick offered to help him, Franklin demurred.

"Listen, mug," his friend told Dick, "You originally figured to come to Goldcrest on a mining idea you had. Well, you keep at it. I was going to read books. Now books can wait, but every chance you get you go on and investigate the ore dump, see?"

Dick obeyed. For one thing he wanted to stick as close to the town as possible, especially near the old bank. Sooner or later whoever claimed ownership of the $12,000 would be back to get it. Dick was determined to be a reception committee for him, or them. He let Franklin do most of the errands.

The problem of sign painting was not too easy. None of the four had ever painted any signs, but Christine had done some sketching in school art classes. She designed a signboard 30 feet long and 12 feet high—it became a real construction job for her and Franklin—and then set in to paint it with Franklin's help. The painting alone took three long days.

"It's going to look fine, Christy!" Franklin told her when it was almost done. "You ought to be proud of it."

"The heck I did! Look at the paint on you! Even on your face, and your overalls—gee!" He pointed at her with his red paint brush. It dripped garishly onto the scaffolding where they stood. "You know, Christine, I think you're a good sport. Not many girls I ever met would get down to actual hard work like this."

"Thank you, Franklin. You're no loafer yourself. And we had to back up Roselee. Didn't we, now?"

"You bet. But she didn't ask you to do this. You're getting sunburned, too. Losing your pale, glamorous complexion. I can even count freckles."

"I'd grow warts if they'd help attract tourists to Goldcrest," she smiled. "Dick and Roselee have done most of the work, it seems to me."

"Dick's a mound of energy," he admitted. "Move over and I'll finish the red on your side. Some more cars are turning in. More business!"

She turned to watch three cars that had slowed down. Franklin had to answer their inquiry, directing them to go right on in to Goldcrest where guides would meet them. Roselee and Dick served as guides there.

"If we do, may I work with you, Christy?" He asked that in a low, semi-confidential tone. Christine was a bit surprised by it. Sitting now on the paint scaffold, she looked up at him.

• • •

Franklin Larraway had been the surprising one of the four young people. That first morning he had appeared full of bubbling fun and wisecracks, but as time had passed he had changed into a much more serious-minded person. Christine knew the type. Really very shy at heart, he made initial gestures of affability to cover the shyness he felt. She had somehow liked him for it. Except for his two-day trip to Los Angeles, she had been with Franklin Larraway almost constantly, she reflected now. She hadn't quite realized that herself, and sitting here on the scaffolding she decided that much of it hadn't been accidental. Franklin had manoeuvred to be with her constantly and now the thought startled her a little bit. Especially since he was asking to work with her still more, petitioning humbly as a child might do.

"Why Franklin—surely! It's a pleasure to work with you." She bit her upper lip, just to be sure he didn't see her smile.

"That's swell!" he murmured, enthusiastically. "And listen, Christy—we've had to be awful careful about—well, about sticking strictly to work and all. We never see you or Roselee after supper. You either ride over to the ranch, or stay in your hotel room, or—"

"But—when we—we're catching up now. Maybe Saturday—Sunday—"

She laughed happily then. "Sure, we can relax by Saturday. Roselee's having all of us at her ranch home that night for dinner. Dick's already asked to escort me!"

Franklin kept looking down at her. He swallowed, slowly, gazing into Christine's deep dark eyes. "You—you like old Dick, don't you Christy?" he asked.

She nodded and said, "Of course." But her eyes had a quick telltale mistiness in them, and there was a new confusion in her mind.

She reached for her paint brush and without another word both of them resumed their work. Nor did they talk again for a long half hour. Neither was in the mood. Each knew that something besides business was creeping into the personnel of the ghost town managers. Franklin felt, with almost devastating gloom, that something had suddenly snatched away every chance he had for happiness in this mortal life.

Further Honors Given Glenwright At Kiwanis Meet

Further honors came to John W Glenwright, managing director of the Commercial Life Asurance Co of Canada, who is leaving Sunday for Toronto where his company's head offices are now, when members of the Kiwanis Club gave him a farewell dinner Friday night.

Sixty club members were present at the banquet, which was featured by having R. Henry read the annual report submitted by Mr. Glenwright during his presidential year 1926-27. Mr. Glenwright has been a Kiwanian since 1920.

Clyde Hook, president, made a presentation to Mr. Glenwright on behalf of the club. Arrangements committee comprised Del. Mould, Charles Peavoy, W. G. Strachan, and Ed. McGarvey led the community singing.

Province Is Free Of Horse Sickness

Provincial government authorities declared Saturday that no cases of sleeping sickness among horses had been reported this season. An intensive campaign has been carried on, sponsored by the governments of the three prairie provinces, to vaccinate horses against the malady.

Officials report that the vaccinations are slackening off, indicating that farmers are satisfied that the danger period is nearly past.

Movie Czar Pledges Film Industry's Support To Moral Rearmament

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., July 17.—Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, pledged support of the film industry to moral rearmament Friday.

Hays presided at a luncheon given for Dr. Frank Buchman, founder of the movement, by Louis B. Mayer, film producer. In attendance were leaders of the movies and representatives of 30 nations here to attend a Hollywood bowl meeting next Wednesday night.

"We meet today as a step in a progressive program which has to do with the most important enterprise in the world," said Hays.

"If we succeed, all the problems which stifle man will be solved. Moral rearmament has to do with religion, patriotism, friendship and understanding—a partnership with God."

He said the motion picture business, with its wide influence throughout the world, is a "rightful partner" in such a campaign.

Negotiators Agree on Settlement Basis for General Motors Strike

DETROIT, July 17—Negotiators seeking to end the General Motors strike turned Friday to the existing contract between the corporation and the United Automobile Workers' Union for a basis of settling the 10-day-old dispute.

The corporation, which previously had proposed the present contract be eliminated insofar as it applied to the congress of industrial organizations-United Automobile Workers before the fundamentals in the dispute were discussed, agreed to accept the present contract as groundwork for settlement negotiations.

In return, officials of the U A W C I O agreed [illegible] temporarily, a demand the U A W C I O be recognized as sole bargaining agent and to negotiate under the [illegible].

All state police had withdrawn Friday from the Fisher Body plant at Pontiac, scene of rioting early this week, and there was no disorder reported in Michigan.

In Cleveland, however, a police picket skirmish at the G M Fisher body plant injured two men. Another was arrested.

Alberta Rated Highest In All Butter Grading Of Canada Exhibitors

Importance of the dairy products branch of the Edmonton Royal Visit Year Exhibition is indicated by the fact that the Dominion government rates this province the highest in Canada in butter grading reports, and that last year Alberta won 47.4 per cent. of all prizes offered in creamery butter at the 10 leading Canadian exhibitions from Vancouver to Ottawa with a total of 912 awards.

"With such a record as this, our directors naturally feel they are entitled to at least a modicum of credit, along with government dairy experts, for having stirred the imaginations of Alberta butter makers," declared Percy W. Abbott, K.C., managing director of the Edmonton Exhibition.

The dairy products show, again this year under the supervision of T. F. Smith, promises to equal other years, if not better them so far as quality of Alberta products is concerned, Mr. Smith said today.

OTHER PROVINCES

While the majority of entries in the Edmonton show are from this province, four other sections of the Dominion, Quebec, British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Manitoba are represented.

Over one and a half tons of creamery butter, comprising 211 entries, faced judges today (Friday, July 14th) when judging started in this class. Officials in charge are: K. C. MacKay, senior dairy produce grader for western Canada, Winnipeg; W. J. Beckett, dairy produce grader in charge, Edmonton; assistants from the provincial department of agriculture, I. Stewart-Irvine, A. Ross and A. F. Bennett.

Other entries in this branch of the exhibition include 22 entries of dairy butter, consisting of approximately 61 pounds. The above judges will also place the awards in the dairy butter classes.

In the two cheese classes, 20 entries await the judges' decision. Judges in charge are the same as in the butter classes, with the addition of George W. Scott, of the Alberta department of agriculture assisting in the preparation of the cheese exhibit.

HONEY AND EGGS

Honey and eggs are also included in this branch of the fair, with 30 entries in the former and 25 in the latter sections. The honey exhibits will be judged this year by D. A Andrew, manager of the Vermilion (provincial) School of Agriculture. Awards will be made by Mr. Andrew commencing at 9:30 a.m. Monday, July 17th.

I. F. Dawes and W. B. Crawford of the Dominion Poultry Service Branch, Edmonton, will judge the egg entries, commencing Monday at 9:30 a.m.

All dairy products exhibits will be displayed in the modern showcase refrigerator, constructed by the Exhibition Association in 1936 in the Manufacturers' Building during the entire week of the Exhibition, July 17 to 22.

SPORTS BULLETIN

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly

The Hall Mark

It's Tough!

Stock Booms

YOU never can tell about a golf match until the final putt is holed out. Yesterday's city final was as fine an example of that as you are likely to find. I doubt if there was a single golf fan in Edmonton on Sunday morning who would have bet that young Bob Manahan had a chance against the polished Martell—then look what a deluge of rain and a fighting Manahan did.

So far as old-timers can recall, the Edmonton amateur has never before produced such a sensational rally as Manahan launched when he found himself nine down on the twenty-fourth hole of the 36-hole final. Taking eight holes in a row from Henry Martell is something no other Alberta golfer has yet done in a major competition.

That feat stamped Bob Manahan as a shotmaker with a promising future. It wasn't the mechanics of his game that impressed most, although his technique is sound and effective. It was the way he could come through when he was under terrific pressure. That is the hall-mark of a lad who has the sort of stuff needed to go places in competitive sport.

Bob Fritz and Steve Olander of grid fame tramped around the sodden Municipal course with me yesterday and both came away with profound respect for young Manahan. Bob and Steve know more than the average man does about how tough it is to play under constant pressure when every move must be perfect or nearly so.

"That's tougher than football," Fritz admitted with admiration. "In a game we [illegible] pressure—waiting for a forward pass or a punt [illegible] a forward pass when [illegible] perfect—but praise the saints we're not under pressure [illegible] straight like you are in golf!"

Bobby comes by his temperament honestly. He is the sort of son you would expect Cliff Manahan to have. From Halifax to Vancouver there isn't a cooler curling skip under pressure than Cliff. Give Bob a couple more years of seasoning in tough competitive golf and he'll be tough enough to suit anyone in these parts.

Eskimo Stock Booms

WITH the announcement that Bob Hoel, gigantic tackle from last season's Minnesota State Gophers, had been signed by the Edmonton Sport Booster Club, stock of the Eskimos boomed upward in the Western Conference market.

Making forecasts about a team before you have seen it functioning under fire is a sure method of making a fool out of yourself. I prefer to wait until I have seen the Esks in a couple of conference battles before going out on a limb with paeans of praise. However, it does look right now that Edmonton has as good a club on paper this year as any other city in the conference.

Civics Eliminate Calgary by 3-2: Play Vancouver Here Thursday

Edmonton Civics earned the right to represent Alberta in the Dominion football playdowns by defeating Calgary Hillhurst 3-2 here Saturday. Civics now advance against Vancouver Radials, British Columbia champions in an inter-provincial series which will be played at Clarke Stadium here.

The inter-provincial series between Civics and Vancouver Radials will be played here on Thursday and Saturday and will be a two-of-three match series.

HAD EARLY FOOTING

Civics took an early lead against the Calgarians in Saturday's game at Clarke Stadium. The Edmonton boys never looked back after first taking a goal lead and then breaking away from a 1-1 tie. All goals were scored in the first half, Calgary playing a great defensive game in the second half.

Calgary won the toss and elected to play with the sun and wind at their backs. Johnson set the game in motion and straightaway made a bee-line for the Calgary goal, Anderson hitting the crossbar with a nice effort.

Continued pressure by the Edmonton forwards made it appear a walk-over. This did not prove the case as the Hillhurst boys found their bearings, and the right wing of Law and Dutton nobly backed by Cutey Gibbs, gave the local defence a trying time.

Ross relieved the situation by a long kick. This commenced a raid in front of MacKenzie, terminating with Anderson beating the goalie with a hard drive to open the score after fifteen minutes play. A feature about this success was the unselfishness of Graham and Johnson. Either of these players could have scored, but they [illegible] Anderson who was [illegible].

CALGARY EQUALIZES

This lead was of short duration. Mathews received the ball from his half-back and from twenty yards out let go with a shot which had Ness beaten all the way. Civics again got on the pressure and [illegible] handled the ball in the penalty area. Referee Gordon immediately [illegible] tests of the Calgary players. The decision stood, and Graham made no mistake in converting the kick by placing the ball low and to the right of the goalie making the score 2-1.

A few minutes later Graham again was conspicuous beating T. W[illegible] the hemp behind MacKenzie [illegible] beating Ness [illegible]. Half time, Civics 3, Hillhurst 2.

SOUND DEFENSIVELY

It now [illegible] wind and [illegible]. Time after time again the Civics found themselves in front of the Calgary goal but could not penetrate the [illegible] obstacle.

Radials Defeat St. Andrews 5-1

VANCOUVER, July 17.—Vancouver Radials defeated St. Andrews, [illegible] 5-1 here Saturday [illegible] the right to represent British Columbia in the dominion soccer inter-provincial playdowns.

Radials dropped the first game a week ago, 3-2 and won the second [illegible] 2-0. [illegible].

HAD LARGE LEAD

Radials: W. Watson; G. Smith, T. McKibbon; D. Cowan, E. Camp, John Johnson; Jack Johnson, J. McKay, Hap Smith, H. Greer, R. Liptrott.

Third Minnesota Football Star Signs To Play With Esks in Coming Campaign

ACQUISITION of a third University of Minnesota football star to play with Edmonton Eskimos in the Western Canada Conference during the coming season was announced late Saturday by Leroy Goldsworthy, business manager of the Sport Booster Club, when he received a wire accepting terms from Bob Hoel, giant centre and tackle.

The local club had previously signed Russ Wile, great end, and Bill Matheny, an outstanding halfback, from the famous mid-western football school where Coach Bernie Bierman has been turning out championship squads for many years.

Hoel, latest of Bierman products to sign with the Eskimos, comes here after a brilliant three-year college career with the Gophers, during which time he earned the reputation of being one of the finest linemen in the Big Ten Conference. He graduated this year and wound up his playing days at university last fall.

LARGE INDIVIDUAL

The new Eskimo stands six feet, two inches without his hosiery on, tips the scales at 220 pounds, and is 22 years of age.

Before entering Minnesota, Hoel starred with Central High School in Minneapolis and, according to Russ Wile, was rated one of the finest tackles playing high school football in the Twin Cities.

Wile, who will look after the line-coaching duties for Coach Bob Fritz, was particularly enthused over the signing of the new star, as he feels that he will add a great deal of strength to the Edmonton line.

The new player will arrive here for the start of training on July 25 with Matheny and Gordon Gelhaye, the 270-pound line star of last season who is coming back to rejoin the squad.

EIGHT IMPORTS

Signing of these players brings the Eskimos' total of imports up to eight, which is one more than can be dressed for each game but Coach Fritz figures that it will be advisable to have an extra one on hand for any emergency that may arise.

ANNOUNCE DATES SOCCER PLAYOFFS

WINNIPEG, July 17.—Dominion soccer finals will be played July 29 and 31 at Winnipeg, Sam Davidson, secretary of the Dominion Football Association, announced last night. If a third game is necessary, he said, it would be played on August 1.

McIntyre plays Falconbridge at Timmins July 18 and 20 in the northern playoffs, while [illegible] battles Ulster United at Montreal on the same dates in the eastern playoffs.

July 20 and 22 will see Edmonton Civics meet Vancouver Radials at Edmonton in the western finals playoffs with Winnipeg getting a bye. The western finals are scheduled for July 24 and 26 at Winnipeg.

Soccer Council Will Meet At "Y" Tuesday Evening

The council of the Edmonton Soccer Association will meet at the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday evening and all councillors are urged to attend.

Important business, dealing with the British Columbia and Alberta soccer series at Clarke Stadium here will be the foremost item of business. The meeting will start at 8:00 p.m.

League President Fines Umpire, Manager, Players

NEW YORK, July 17.—President Ford Frick of the National Baseball League plastered fines and suspensions Sunday on four participants in Saturday's' disorderly demonstration at the Polo Grounds, when New York Giants went amok because a blow by Harry Craft of Cincinnati Reds into the left field stands was called fair by Umpire Lee Ballanfant.

Umpire George Magerkurth, fined $150 and suspended 10 days for hitting Bill Jurges, Giants shortstop.

In the eighth inning, with the Giants leading 4-3, Craft swatted a ball right down the four line. Ballanfant, behind the plate, declared it fair, and Craft trotted in behind a runner to put the Reds ahead 5-4.

The Giants went wild and for 15 minutes the players and managers of both teams and three umpires formed a boiling mass around home plate. The Giants claimed the ball was foul.

The Reds went on to win 8-4 over the patched-up Giants line-up.

PREDICT CLOSE TENNIS BATTLE

HAVANA, July 17. — A close battle between the Canadian and Cuban Davis Cup tennis teams July 21 was predicted last night by Havana sports writers.

Experts who witnessed their training schedule found the Canadian visitors entirely acclimated. They practice daily on the Vedado Tennis Club courts.

Observers are impressed by the effective teamwork of the doubles pair of Bill Pedlar and Phil Pearson of Toronto, formerly of Vancouver. A finish fight is predicted when the youthful Canadians meet the veteran team of Ricardo Morales and Lorenzo Nodarse, five-year Cuban title-holders.

H. Wolfe Wins City Title In Senior Golf Meet

Turning in a net 131 for 36 holes of medal play, H. Wolfe won the city senior golf championship Sunday at the Municipal course. The title was awarded on a net basis in this competition open only to golfers 55 years of age or more.

E. E. "Pem" Wood was runner-up for the championship with a net of 138. Next came Charlie Croft with 139. H. V. Shaw, P. B. Rose and J. K. Lowry each carded 144 while R. J. McMillan had 146.

Cricket Notes

LEGION vs. E.R.R.

With several of the Radial team away the Legion took an easy afternoon on the game on Saturday. Gaitts was the only batsman to gain double figures for the Radials who were dismissed for the low score of 35 runs. The Legion took it easy in making their reply and declared the innings at 88 for 7.

Bob Manahan Stages Sensational Finish

By JACK KELLY
Edmonton Bulletin Sports Editor

IN ONE of the weirdest golf finals that Edmonton has ever seen, Henry Martell of the Highlands Club won the city amateur championship on Sunday from Bob Manahan by a two and one margin over the rain-flooded greens of Municipal, Manahan's home course. Henry's win set an all-time record for this competition in that it is the fifth consecutive time that he has won the title. No one else has ever managed to win it more than twice in a row.

Yesterday's final started out as a walk-away for Martell and nearly ended with him drowning in rain-filled traps and on water-covered greens after the terrific rain and hail storm which lashed suddenly over the city in early afternoon. Manahan staged one of the most sensational rallies seen here in many a year. Nine down at the end of the 24th hole, Bob all at once turned red hot and won eight holes before the defending champ was able to take another and end the match.

As the slim young Municipal ace took hole after hole with birdies and pars from the veteran champion, the big gallery of rain-sodden fans hung on in amazement despite a biting wind that whipped the course and added another terrific natural handicap. Most of the greens had miniature lakes on them and on the 16th a new hole had to be dug to permit putting.

TURNING POINT

Manahan's brilliant rally ended when he drove off on the 185-yard 17th. His ball went almost at right angles to the line from tee to hole. He made a gallant attempt to recover with a pitch shot of nearly 100 yards, but it hit the side of the raised green and gave him no chance to tie Martell's crisp par three.

Firing sub-par golf that took him over the morning round of 18 holes with a 68—four under par, Henry Martell accumulated a 7 up lead by lunch time. He added two more on the first six holes of the afternoon round. Then Manahan started his hair-raising bid for victory. Bob took the 25th with a par as Henry's putting began to slip on greens from the driest part of which you could skite sheets of water with a putter.

Manahan sank a breath-taking putt on the 26th for a birdie and another win. Martell's drive on the 27th landed in a sand trap and he needed three putts. Manahan holed out in a four to reduce the champ's lead to six.

OUT OF BOUNDS

They halved the 28th in pars and the 29th in birdies. Manahan laid his drive dead to the pin on the 125-yard 30th for a birdie two against Martell's par. Manahan took the 31st when Martell's drive was out of bounds and his second shot landed in such a position that he had no chance. Three putts on the 32nd green cost Martell the hole as Bob came through with a par.

On the 302-yard 33rd, Martell's drive plunked into eight inches of water in the deep trap along the green. After a conference of officials, Henry was allowed to lift his ball from the water and drop it back of the trap with a one-stroke penalty. A small boy had to be obtained to go wading for the ball though before it could be found. Henry got a par out of it, but Manahan got a birdie and reduced Martell's lead to two-up.

Both were on the edge of the 34th green with their seconds only to find the cup completely hidden by a lake of water. A new hole was made on a dry corner of the green. A fine chip shot paved the way for Manahan to take the hole with a par when Martell's putting again slipped.

Then, within a hole of squaring the match, Manahan's drive on the 35th went haywire and Martell seized the title.

MORNING ROUND

Junior Cricket Elevens Open Tournament Today

VANCOUVER, July 17. — Twenty-six young cricketers representing the pick of Ontario and Manitoba junior ranks, arrived here Sunday for Canada's first interprovincial junior cricket tournament which opens today.

The Ontario youngsters in charge of A. Garsight, and the Manitobans under T. A. Felstead, prominent in senior inter-provincial circles a few years ago, were met by Vancouver cricket officials and members of the British Columbia team they will play in the six-day tourney which also includes a team from Alberta.

The Albertans arrived in two sections, Calgary players coming in last night followed by members from Edmonton this morning.

WELCOMED BY QUINN

Welcomed by Bob Quinn, Vancouver cricketer and donor of the Bob Quinn cup up for the first time this year for inter-provincial junior competition, the Ontario and Manitoba boys were later taken to the homes of coast players and friends where they will stay during the week.

Flashes of sunlight greeted the tourists, promising fair weather for the tournament after a week of dull skies and intermittent rain.

"We're glad to get out," was the general comment of the visitors, particularly the boys from Ontario whose cross-country trip was broken only briefly at Winnipeg where they played an exhibition match with a senior team. They lost the decision but nevertheless gave a good account of themselves.

HOLD PRACTICES

Sunday afternoon the two touring squads held a practice [illegible] at Connaught Park, limbering up for today matches which put them against each, while British Columbia and Alberta meet in the other game.

Fourteen of the arrivals were from Ontario while the other 12 made up the Manitoba team.

Play is scheduled to start at 10.30 a.m. on the two pitches at Stanley Park's Brockton Point grounds with lunch interval 12.30 p.m. tea at 4 p.m. and stumps will be drawn at 6 p.m. (all times P.S.T.)

O.C. Cricket

LONDON, July 17.—Harrow defeated Eton by eight wickets Saturday in the annual cricket match at Lord's. After scoring 268 in their first turn at the wickets the Etonians were dismissed for a second-innings total of 155 while the victor made totals of 294 and 131 for two wickets.

Surrey 285 (Whittaker 66; Brown 51, Nichols five for 79); Essex 131 for two wickets (Eastman 98 not out); at Colchester.

Durham 101 (Grant six for 33) and 14 for two wickets; West Indies 203 (Sealey 55); at Sunderland.

Two High-Scoring Baseball Battles Played At Bashaw

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

BASHAW, July 17—The two baseball games played here between Stettler and Bashaw and Forestburg and Bashaw were battles indeed with numerous runs for all teams.

BILL STARK WINS CITY TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

Henry Picard Wins P.G.A. Title From Nelson

By BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 17.—Henry Picard, who three years ago swore he'd never compete in another match play tournament, is the new United States Professional Golfers Association champion because he proved himself the best match player in a field of 64 top professionals.

When "Pic" left the 1936 P.G.A. at Pinehurst in disgust there seemed ample excuse for his feeling. He'd lost to Jimmy Thomson in the third round after being beaten in the first and second rounds in his two previous P.G.A. appearances.

But in 1937 he went to the quarter-finals; last year he went to the semi-final round, and Saturday nosed out Bryon Nelson, United States open champion, one up in 37 holes.

HIS BIGGEST THRILL

Picard has won bigger prizes than the $1,100 cheque he received Saturday. None, though, gave him a bigger thrill.

"This is the one I've been working for the last 15 years," said Henry, as he tucked the handsome Wanamaker trophy under his arms and headed home to Hershey, Pa.

His victory over Nelson on the short Pomonok Country Club course produced brilliant golf and was a memorable climax to a memorable week which saw highly-favored contenders fall.

The week began with three days of wrangling over Denny Shute's eligibility.

ISN'T OVER YET

The Shute episode still isn't a dead pigeon. The break in the ranks between the playing pros and the majority of the membership, the teaching pros, may be emphasized again when the Ryder cup team is named to play against Great Britain in Florida in November.

Recent Immigrant From Germany Wins Saskatchewan Title

REGINA, July 17.—Miss Helga Joel of Saskatoon, who came from Berlin, Germany, a short time ago, won the Saskatchewan women's singles tennis title at the provincial tourney here Saturday, defeating Miss Clara Ehman of Regina 6-2, 6-2 in the final.

Bill Baldwin of Regina won the men's singles with a 6-3, 6-2, 6-3 victory over Bill Hetherington of Regina in the final.

In the men's doubles final Peter McKenzie and Spike Wilson of Saskatoon beat Hetherington and Jim Cuthbert of Regina 6-2, 6-3, 6-3. Miss Erman and Mrs. W. E. Denmark of Regina won the women's doubles crown, beating Mrs. D. A. Smith and Mrs. F. G. Bodkin of Regina 10-8, 6-4.

Hetherington and Miss Ehman won the mixed doubles with a 6-3 6-3 win over Pete McKenzie and Helen Stewart of Saskatoon.

Australia Triumphs In Davis Cup Play

LONG BEACH, Cal., July 17.—Australia brushed aside the last stand of the Philippines Saturday in an American zone international Davis cup campaign. The Aussies next tackle the winner of the Canada-Cuba series which starts Friday at Havana.

Two New Records In Women's Track

TORONTO, July 17. — Two new field marks were on the books as a record entry decided Ontario's women's track and field championships Saturday.

Scores Hole-In-One

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

VEGREVILLE, July 17.—P. J. Schultz of Vegreville joined the ranks of the hole-in-one club when he sank his tee shot on the 220-yard seventh hole of the Vegreville golf course Thursday to be the first to hole out in one on this course which is being played for the fifth season. Mr. Schultz, who, with A. W. Shaw as partner, was playing against J. F. Gilmour and H. D. Burgar had played the first six holes in par and won the match two up.

CAPT. SMITH IS WINNER OF KING'S PRIZE

Has Total Score of 282 Out of Possible 300 In Big Event

By EDWIN JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 17.—The roar of cheering that greets the final of the King's prize went up Saturday for Capt. T. S. Smith, formerly of the Fifth Staffordshire Regiment, as he emblazoned his name on the long scroll of victors in the classic feature of the big imperial meeting of the National Rifle Association.

Captain Smith, a 49-year-old married man with three children, made his ninth appearance in the select list of the "King's Hundred" who compete in the final stage of the great match, and he won the event with a total score of 282 points out of a possible 300. He took the King's prize of $1,250 in cash and the gold medal and gold badge of the N.R.A.

WOMAN IS SECOND

The only woman who ever won the King's prize, Miss M. E. Foster, came in second with 278 to win the badge and $250. The King's prize is restricted to "past or present members of His Majesty's forces," and Miss Foster qualified by having driven an ambulance during the Great War. Her victory in the King's prize was in 1930.

Sharing third place were two officers of the Royal Air Force, Flying Officer C. Bunch and Pilot G. Richardson, who scored 277.

Six Canadians were in the final and Lieut. Steve Johnson of Calgary, making his first trip to Bisley, achieved sixth place with a total of 275 to win the N.R.A. badge and $50.

Corporal M. M. Morgan of Winnipeg with 271 was 25th, winning the N.R.A. badge and $25. Sgt. C. E. Moore of Ottawa had the same score to place 26th and won the badge and $15.

The other three Canadians were way down the list, Company Sgt.-Major Harry Rusk of Ottawa and Lieut. C. F. Kennedy of Hilden, N.S., finishing with 267 and Sergt. Alex Parnell of Montreal with 266.

The King's prize final puts finis to one of the leanest Bisley meets in years for Canada. Not a single trophy came to the Canadians during the meet and the only first place they achieved was when Corporal H. D. Whitehead of Toronto took the bronze medal in the first stage of the St. George's challenge vase—and Whitehead had to win a tie-shoot to get it.

Middle Distances Prove Easy for German Track Ace

BERLIN, July 17—Rudolf Harbig, who once hated to run, has developed rapidly into Germany's outstanding 1940 Olympic hope in the middle distances.

This 25-year-old Dresden athlete bettered Elroy Robinson's official record by three seconds and was nearly two seconds under Sydney Wooderson's unofficial mark Saturday when he ran the 800 metres in 1:46.6 at Milan, Italy, in an Italian-German meet.

Harbig joined a Dresden sports club when he was 13, but gave it up because he found he didn't like to run. He was 19 before he started running again—this time for the Brandenburg Sport Club in cross country races.,

Harbig in the 800 metres last Sunday was clocked in 1:49.4, beating the listed world record.

Long Key Triumphs In Goldsmith Trot

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Me., July 17.—Returning to the form that stamped him a trotting standout in 1938, E. J. Merkle's Long Key raced to a straight-heat triumph Saturday in the $2,900 Goldsmith maid trot for four-year-olds, feature event on a grand circuit racing program.

Alice Marble Takes Irish Tennis Title

DUBLIN, July 17.—Alice Marble of San Francisco, recent winner of the all-England tennis championship at Wimbledon, Saturday won the Irish title with a 6-2, 6-4 victory over Susan Noel of England.

To stop a car travelling 70 miles an hour, the average set of brakes are required to convert to heat as much as 500 horsepower of work.

EXPLANATION OF TODAY'S CARTOON

THE CRIPPLED LIFESAVER: "Smiling Nick" Kuzmick, of Mayfield, Pa., is unable to use his legs because of a broken back suffered in a mine accident in 1926, yet he has saved the lives of six persons in the last four years. He is able to swim for hours, using only his arms. Despite his record, he is unable to obtain a life-saving certificate, because the uselessness of his legs prevents him from breaking certain holds of drowning persons.

Manitoba C.C.F. Rejects Support New Democracy

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., July 17—The fourth annual convention of the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation of Manitoba wound up its session during the week-end by unanimously passing a resolution rejecting joint nomination and support of candidates of the New Democracy movement, led by Hon. W. D. Herridge.

The resolution rejecting active political co-operation with Hon. W. D. Herridge's New Democracy movement was passed without debate after the subject had been discussed during Saturday morning's session.

Wedding Feast Lays 22 Under Care of Doctors

LA TUQUE, July 17.—Suffering from ptomaine poisoning believed caused by contaminated ingredients in sandwiches at a wedding breakfast, two persons were in hospital last night and nearly 20 others were under doctors' care.

They became ill after having attended the breakfast Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Omer Fiset whose 19-year-od daughter, Lucienne, was married to Roland Leboeuf.

FORT OARSMEN TAKE REGATTA BY WIDE MARGIN

Score Third Consecutive Triumph In Meet At St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 17.—The $6,000 Sir Thomas Lipton trophy, awarded annually to the high scoring team in the annual regatta of Northwestern International Rowing Association, went to Fort William Sweep Pullers for the third consecutive year.

Final point standings gave the winners 132.50 to 113.25 points for the second place Winnipeg team. St. Paul rowers finished third with 26.25. Port Arthur, Minneapolis and Kenora failed to register a point.

In winning the 30th annual regatta, Fort William scored 77.50 points Saturday afternoon. Winnipeg scored 53.50 points.

SENIOR EIGHT WINS

When the regatta went into the final event with the outcome still in doubt, it marked the third straight year that the Fort William senior eight was decided victor.

Bright spot as far as local rowers were concerned came in the junior doubles, won by Mike Stewart and Al Van of St. Paul. Stewart and Van whipped Tom Jones and Ron Wallace of Fort William.

Only a fine lead built up in the opening minutes of the race and their unmatched stamina kept them on top. Time was 5:50, five-tenths of a second better than the best time Friday.

WINNIPEG WINNER

Winnipeg hopes for championship took a jump when they came home winner by four lengths in the junior fours events. They negotiated the distance in 7:19 and led the field from outset. Len Stone, Charles Ferrier, Ralph MacColl and George Bromwell were members of the winning shell.

The same eight boys who were heroes in Fort William's last-minute spurt Friday afternoon provided the spark that sent hopes of Fort William backers soaring again. The 30 points gained in the bantam eights victory put Fort William scullers right back in the thick of the fight, only 3.25 points back of the Winnipeg team. The regatta was awarded to Winnipeg for 1940.

College Cricket Tied

CHELTENHAM, Eng., July 17. — The cricket match between the touring Canadian college cricketers and Cheltenham college was declared a draw when rain prevented play on the second day of the two-day match.

Airplane parts will be standardized throughout the world, thus affecting the plane itself, its engine parts, and fuel specifications.

Beats Shorts Purcell In Four-Set Final

BILL STARK entered the hall of Edmonton's tennis immortals when at the Glenora Tennis Club's courts, Saturday afternoon, he defeated Andrew "Shorts" Purcell in the final of the Edmonton and District Tennis Association's annual tournament, by the score of 7-5, 4-6, 6-3, 8-6. It was the first time Stark had won this title and the first time he had tried for it.

In thus capturing this coveted trophy, Stark has his name engraved on the championship bowl along with such masters of Edmonton tennis as Fred J. Mitchell, Dr. M. M. Dunsworth, Harry Kinloch, Shorts Purcell, Roger Waters and others.

LIST OF CHAMPIONS

Other championships so far decided are:

Ladies' open singles, Bessie McAvoy.

Men's open doubles, "Shorts" Purcell-Walter McIntosh.

Junior singles, John Stott.

Men's secondary singles, George McFadzean.

Ladies' secondary doubles, Mrs. Robinson-Miss Hopkins.

Yet to be completed are the mixed open doubles, the men's secondary doubles, the ladies' secondary singles and the mixed secondary doubles.

In defeating Purcell in the singles final, Stark played a careful, steady game. He seldom hit out hard and used a high parabola drive, which he employed with great steadiness and accuracy.

In the last analysis, condition and stamina turned the tide in favor of Stark. Purcell hit out more freely and probably scored more placements but Stark's stamina and retrieving ability stood him in good stead.

RETAIN DOUBLES CROWN

In the final of the men's open doubles, Purcell-McIntosh retained their men's open doubles title, winning from Stark-Pentland. When the match stood two sets all, it had to be called on account of darkness and as Stark-Pentland had made arrangements to leave for the provincial tournament at Lethbridge on Saturday night, they could not remain to play Sunday and had to default.

Below are Saturday's results and Monday's draw:

AUSSIES TO PLAY IN CANADA MEET

VANCOUVER, July 17. — Jack Bromwich and Harry Hopman, members of Australia's Davis Cup team, will compete in the western Canada tennis tournament here July 24-29, officials of the Vancouver Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club announced last night.

The Australians defeated the Philippines this week-end and qualified to meet the winner of the Cuba-Canada series in this year's Davis Cup play.

34,000 Conscripts To Start Training Tuesday Morning

LONDON, July 17.—Great Britain's first 34,000 youths of her new conscript army spent their first week-end under canvas and in barracks as the government mobilized manpower and resources for any eventuality during the summer months, considered by some to be "Europe's danger period."

"The boys of the new brigade," as the 20-year-old militia recruits are called, will start real training Tuesday. Their first three days in the army were too occupied with preliminaries.

In other ways the nation, with mobilization of the first unit of 200,000 to be called up this year, concluded a week in which major preparadness steps were taken.

Two Miners Killed

HOPE, B.C., July 17.—William B. Heave, 68, and Joseph Heaton, 50, were killed when a dynamite blast misfired while they were working on their small gold claim near Jessica, 20 miles east of here. The men apparently were killed Friday night, but their deaths were not discovered until Saturday by another prospector.

Big Bomber Makes Stop-Over At Base

En route to Vancouver where it will become part of the fleet of planes operated there by the Royal Canadian Air Force from the Jericho Beach base, a huge Super-Marine Stranraer bomber landed at Cooking Lake seaplane base Saturday afternoon and remained there until Sunday morning when it continued its flight. It is operated by a crew of R.C.A.F. officers led by Squadron Leader F. H. Mowdesley.

Vags Picked Up

Working on the assumption that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, Detective Sergeant Bert Petheram and his men from the city police detective squad picked up seven young men Saturday on charges of vagrancy. It is part of the annual pre-fair round-up in which police attempt to rid the city of all undesirables who arrive here to "work the fair."

Farmers' Group Plans Meeting At Willingdon

A convention of the United Farmers of Canada, Alberta section, will be held in Willingdon, Saturday, July 29, at 1:30 p.m. for the purpose of affiliating all recognized farmers' movements in the province.

G. R. Bickerton, president of the Saskatchewan section of the U.F.C., will be one of the principle speakers at the meeting. Other speakers will include, R. Gardner, president of the U.F.A. and Charles Hawson, president of the Farmers' Union in Lloydminster. All interested persons are asked to attend the convention.

Health Official Studies Alberta Medical Service

Dr. Joseph W. Mountain, Washington, recently appointed assistant surgeon-general of the United States public health service, Monday called the Alberta system of rural health clinics, and administration "interesting".

Dr. Mountain, who came to the city Monday during a tour he is making in connection with his office, said he had been reading about the Alberta system and had stopped over in Edmonton to see Dr. M. R. Bow, deputy minister of health, whom he has known for several years, to find out more about the provincial method of health administration in outlying areas.

Traffic Board Meets Monday Hear Protests

Under the chairmanship of Alfred Chard, the Alberta Highway Traffic Board was scheduled to meet Monday afternoon to deal with protests over granting an exclusive franchise over the new winter highway from Grimshaw to Great Slave Lake. Several protests have been received and it is expected that two delegations will appear in person.

Three applications for exclusive franchises have been received by the board. If an exclusive franchise is granted it will be stipulated that the holder must maintain the highway in proper condition.

W. J. Lampley, M.L.A. for Peace River, is in the city in connection with the representations.

Truck Turns Over

Police are seeking for questioning the driver of a light delivery truck which was found overturned near the top of Connors' Hill and the 94 street intersection about 9 p.m. Saturday. The truck apparently rolled off the road, and the driver crawled away and disappeared. Firemen answered a call that the truck was on fire, but discovered it was not.

Two Autos Stolen

Police reported Monday that two automobiles were stolen in the city over the week-end. Sid Elliott, 5005 112 avenue, reported that his sedan was stolen from in front of his house Saturday night. Brown Cleaners reported their delivery coach was stolen from in front of 10049 104 street. Neither had been recovered Monday morning.

PEACE RIVER FARMERS ARE NOW JUBILANT

Steady Rain Assures "Bumper" Crop For North District

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

PEACE RIVER, July 17.—Farmers in the Peace River district were jubilant Monday as a steady downpour of rain ended a long dry spell. Crops, already in head, are now almost certain to fill out properly and farmers are looking forward to one of the best crops in years.

Rain came at just the proper time to produce an excellent crop. Grain was beginning to suffer from the long, hot spell but had not been injured. The long spell of dry weather brought the grain along faster than usual and the danger from frost has been considerably lessened this year.

GREAT INTEREST

Great interest is manifest throughout the Peace River district over the visit of Premier Aberhart and party, who are scheduled to speak here Tuesday evening. A banquet, non-political in nature, will feature his arrival. The meeting is billed for 8 p.m. and a public address system will be utilized in the event of the crowd being too large for the hall.

Ash Brothers, for many years prominent jewellers in Edmonton, arrived in Peace River Saturday and will establish in business here on Main street in the Algar building. W. T. Ash has taken up residence on Fifth street north with the arrival of his household effects by truck van.

Dr. Wm. Greene has just returned from an extended trip into the Yellowknife district after completing assessment work on claims staked a year ago. He brought back samples procured from his Pensive Lake claims which shows almost $40 to the ton.

Extensive fires throughout the far north territory have eaten away the moss and tundra leaving the rock country bare of vegetation and it was the fires and wind that exposed a 14-inch seam that his party traced from outcropping and from which his samples were taken.

South Alberta Crop Splendid Official Says

Crops from Red Deer south are in splendid condition and in the Lethbridge area are better than in any year since 1928, according to J. J. MacLellan, vice-president of the United Grain Growers and former minister of public works in the United Farmers of Alberta government. He is guest at the Macdonald and is here to attend the exhibition.

"I hope to take a trip to Peace River and inspect the crops," he said. "I hope the hail has not done much damage."

Asked regarding the general crop outlook, Mr. MacLellan said that on the basis of information received so far, the outlook was most promising.

New Pilot

D. W. "SCOTTY" MOIR

Well known eastern Canadian airman and recently with Trans-Canada Airlines, who has joined the pilot staff of Canadian Airways here. A veteran pilot, he was in the Royal Air Force during the war and spent the past 12 years flying in northern Ontario and other parts of eastern Canada. He has more than 6,000 flying hours on his logs.

STORM CAUSES SMALL DAMAGE FARMERS SAY

Cooler weather along with light scattered showers are forecast for Monday although skies Monday showed some signs of clearing as Old Sol broke through for brief intervals.

Highest the mercury rose to Sunday was 69 early in the day. Clouding skies and rain forced the liquid to 57 above by 2:30 p.m. It kept falling during the remainder of the day and Monday morning until it touched an overnight low of 48 above.

Severe Hail Storm Lashes Edson Area

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

EDSON, July 17—Battering crops and gardens, and smashing hundreds of windows in a 20-mile swath, a hail storm, severest in many years, lashed the Edson district Saturday night. Many farmers report 100 per cent damage to crops, heavy loss of poultry and some buildings damaged.

The storm, driven by a strong west wind, struck Edson at approximately 7:30 p.m., and the hailstones, some the size of golf-balls, pounded the town for approximately 15 minutes, cutting gardens to pieces, damaging roofs, and breaking windows on the west side of buildings. As the hail abated, a terrific downpour of rain fell, and there were numerous reports of leaking roofs and flooded basements. Lightning, in a dazzling display, accompanied the storm, and Edson's electric light service was put out of commission, the interruption in service continuing until Sunday afternoon.

At Marlboro, 15 miles west of Edson, automobile traffic was halted by the hail, which piled up to a depth of seven inches on the highway. Damage is reported from Hinton, Marlboro, Bickerdike, Peers and Niton.

MUNDARE, July 17—A wide strip of land, three miles south of Mundare and extending to the northeast, was damaged by hail Saturday afternoon. Crop damage was estimated at 40 per cent in the greater part of the hailed area. Crops had been in the best condition in several years before struck by the hail. A heavy rain followed the hail.

Home Burglary

George Morie reported to police that his home at 10529 83 avenue was broken into Saturday night and a wrist watch and gold bracelet stolen. Entrance was made through the front door, the thieves apparently using the key which was hanging just inside the screen door.

STUDENTS AT CITY SCHOOL HEAR SERMON

Are Guests At Joint McDougall United and First Baptist Service

Students of the summer schools of the department of education and the University of Alberta were special guests on Sunday evening at joint service of McDougall United and First Baptist churches held at McDougall United Sunday evening. Dr. George Clarke of Toronto, guest pastor at the two churches during July, preached a special sermon to the students.

Following the evening service, a social hour was held in the large hall of McDougall church in honor of the students. Sound motion pictures were shown by Mr. Twigg of the University of Alberta, who showed three reels of film. "The City of David," "Climbing to Conquer," and "New York." Musical selections were given by Miss E. Reed of Lethbridge, and Gilbert Brimacombe of Vermilion.

GREAT THINGS

"While there is so much in the world that works against and belittles man, there are great things in his own nature that ennobles and exalts him," said Dr. Clarke, while addressing the students. "Man's uniqueness in the world, his deeds, his capacity of appreciation, his creativeness and his attainments mark him out as distinct from and above all else in the world and to be true to his own nature is to enter life at its best. He has been made to realize his place as a little lower than God."

At the joint morning service of the churches, held at First Baptist, Dr. Clarke preached on the perils of the middle years of life and said that these were far fiercer than the perils of any other period and required sterner discipline. To keep vision clear, the ideals high, work meaningful and to maintain a reverence for God and our fellow men, marked the way to overcome the perils of life's middle years, he said.

Guest ministers occupied a large number of city pulpits Sunday, while regular pastors were on vacation. Rev. L. D. Batchelor took the morning service at All Saints' pro-cathedral, while Rev. H. T. Archbold of Duncan, B.C., conducted the evening service. Rev. J. B. Skene of Toronto occupied the pulpit at both services at First Presbyterian church on Sunday in the absence of Rev. Ross K. Cameron.

Rev. R. J. Burton of Strathcona Presbyterian announced Sunday that evening services at the church would be suspended until September.

Changes in the physical and political world seen on every hand have their counterpart in individual life, said Rev. J. P. Berry at Central United church Sunday. "Life stands for transformation in all its phases," he said. "And nowhere more strikingly than in the tremendous possibilities wrapped up in man. Transformation from character to character is the rule of the Christian life."

High tribute to the flying schools that gave them their preliminary training and the operators who gave them their experience is the fact that Canadian trained pilots are in high demand for pilot posts across the water. Vic. Fox, recently with Yukon Southern here, writes back to say that 2,000 out of the 6,000 first line pilots in the Royal Air Force are Canadians. He himself is working for Wrightways, a large aviation company.

• • •

Norville "Mollie" Small, Canadian Airways pilot who spent some time in this district a couple of years ago and who has recently been flying between Vancouver and Victoria, sails from Montreal on July 28 to accept a position with Imperial Airways.

• • •

Mickey Found, of Mackenzie Air Service, was northbound Monday with mail, express and Miss Helen Scheidegger, of Camrose, for Yellowknife. Al Brown was in Saturday with four passengers including Alex McIvor, Goldfields merchant.

• • •

Mert Wales, of Canadian Airways, arrived in Sunday from Yellowknife with seven passengers.

• • •

Alex Dame, of Yukon Southern, was northbound Monday for Fort St. John and Fort Nelson with mail and six passengers. Ted Field is expected in from the north.

Dredging Expected To Finish In Fall For North Rivers

Dredging operations on the Clearwater and Athabasca rivers for 11 miles below Waterways may be finished this fall if there is high water, said O. F. Cummins, Monteskillo, Quebec, head of the company carrying on the work.

About one-fifth of the dredging operations has already been completed, he said. Contract of $100,000 calls for the work to be done within three years, and work began on June 1.

Although this is not a high-water year, declared Mr. Cummins, heavy rains may allow the work to proceed till late in the fall, when it may be possible to finish the dredging operations.

PROSPECTOR HAS COURAGE IN ACCIDENT

Mike McKenna Recovering In Hospital After Air Rescue

Presence of mind and grit, despite an injury that nearly incapacitated him recently probably were largely responsible for the fact that Mike McKenna, 24, young prospector of the North West Territories, today is in hospital at Yellowknife recovering from a severely fractured leg.

Injured when a tree he had chopped down twisted sideways and crushed his leg against a rock, then slid off and left him free but with the limb broken, he crawled to the shore of Cliff lake, made a small smudge and, when an airplane passed over, waved his coat.

WAITS 12 HOURS

Mickey Found, young Mackenzie Air Service pilot, located McKenna on Saturday at Cliff lake, 65 miles northeast of Yellowknife, and flew him to the hospital of Consolidated Mining and Smelting company at Yellowknife. He had been there for 12 hours, without food, keeping his small fire going.

Pilot Found was out delivering food and mail to prospectors' camps and, after delivering supplies to the camp of Walter Cliff at Pensive lake, was asked to keep a lookout for McKenna, who had not been heard from for awhile. He had gone out on a trip by himself.

"I flew low after I took off," Found said, "and I spotted a canoe pulled up on the shore of Cliff lake, 10 miles north. Then I saw McKenna waving his coat frantically and he had a small fire going—not much more than a smudge. He was waving so frantically, I expect he was afraid I would fly over.

BAD SHAPE

"He was in pretty bad shape. He had been chopping a tree and it slipped sideways when it fell, jamming his leg against a rock. Then it rolled off him.

"He had crawled to the shore, about 300 feet, and that had taken him about two and a half hours. He gathered a few sticks together and made a fire, but he had quite a hard time getting it going.

"We had to carry him to the plane and, when we landed at the Con camp at Yellowknife, we took him to the hospital in a stretcher. He will be all right now, but he probably won't be able to work any more this season."

UNITED FRONT ORGANIZATION AT NORTH TOWN

BERWYN, July 17—With members of the Liberal, U.F.A., Conservative and other political parties in attendance, an organization meeting was held here last week to present a united front candidate in Peace River district in the forthcoming provincial elections. The meeting has not yet chosen a candidate, but it is believed that E. L. Gray, M.L.A., Liberal leader in Alberta, will be asked to represent the united front forces.

William Pemberton of Berwyn was elected president of the new organization. Other officers are Joseph Johnstone, vice-president; Dr. M. Matas, Berwyn, secretary-treasurer, and C. H. Moore, A. B. Hemington and M. McAuley of Fairview; E. E. Quinn and A. A. MacMillan of Peace River; W. Williams, S. F. O'Brien, W. J. Eastman of Berwyn, and Gordon McPhail of Strong Creek, and A. H. McLean and C. Herd of Battle River, members of the executive.

INDIAN WOMAN NOW CHARGED WITH MURDER

Charge of attempted murder was amended to a charge of murder which was read to Mrs. J. B. Cardinal, Winterburn Indian, before a magistrate, in her ward at St. Joseph's hospital, Monday.

Mrs. Cardinal is charged with the murder of her husband, who died a week ago in a city hospital from a wound in the stomach, allegedly inflicted by his wife with a .22 rifle. The first charge was laid before his death.

Mrs. Cardinal, ill with tuberculosis, is held under guard in hospital. She was remanded Monday for eight days.

Federal Official Will Fly North, Inspection Trip

Deputy commissioner of the North West Territories and director of lands, forests and mines, R. A. Gibson, Ottawa, came to Edmonton Monday and will fly north later in the day with Stan McMillan of Mackenzie Airways, for an inspection trip.

Mr. Gibson is accompanied by Austin L. Cummings, Ottawa, supervisor of the Mackenzie district and secretary of the Yukon administration.

"I have nothing to say about the proposed Grimshaw-Yellowknife road. The matter is being handled by the provincial government and has not yet reached us," Mr. Gibson remarked.

Both men saw L. E. Drummond, secretary-manager of the Alberta the North West Chamber of Mines, and Col. J. K. "Peace River Jim" Cornwall, pioneer northerner, on Monday.
